Hancock supervisors told flooding exists

Against the threat of a lawsuit, Hancock supervisors Monday promised action on a complaint by Mrs. Victor Thian that the Port and Harbor Commission had illegally obstructed natural drainage of her property when a railroad spur was built.

Mrs. Thian told supervisors that her property adjacent to the Port and Harbor Industrial Park Site had been transformed into a marsh area as a result of insufficient steps to restore natural drainage that had existed before the railroad line blocked a small bayou running to her property.

"For two years now," Mrs. Thian said, "I have been before the Harbor Commission and before you supervisors and all I have received so far is the runaround. This, I assure you, is my last appearance before you," she added.

"You have all been out to my property and you know what I'm talking about," Mrs. Thian said.

"My next step," she said, "is to take the matter to court."

Supervisor James Trivica said that he was under the impression that the Port and Harbor Commission had taken care of the problem some time ago.

Mrs. Thian said that culverts put in by the commission were four to five feet higher than the water level making it impossible for the water to drain.

A resolution requesting the Port Commission take whatever steps were necessary to correct the situation was passed unanimously with Trivica stating that he would personally look into the matter.

In other business the board approved a resolution to enter into a contract with Marine Concrete Structures of New Orleans for 85 acres of land with the price ranging from $2,500 to $3,500 per acre. Supervisors also approved a request to ask the A&I Board in Jackson to issue $700,000 in revenue bonds for the concrete company.

The board also approved extending an option agreement to the Vining Chemical Company of Vining, Georgia, for 90 acres at the Industrial Park Site at $3,500 per acre with the understanding that any option money would be refunded if in one year natural gas could not be provided to the company.

The board took under advisement five bids received for extension of the Hancock County Health Center.

Bids received included $39,800 and 120 days from Terry Feeny Contractors, Waveland; $26,971 and 45 days from Charles H. Johnson, Waveland; $30,000 and 90 days from John E. Shevers, Gulfport; $30,762 and 90 days from C. C. McDonald Inc., Bay St. Louis; and $27,118 and 60 days from Weaver and Sons.

The board also took under advisement two bids from Crown Construction Co., Bay St. Louis, and Pearl River Paving Co., Picayune, for hot bituminous plant mix resurfacing on five county roads. The roads include VFW, River Road, Gin Road A, Gin Road B, and Witchard Road.

THE TRADITIONAL RIBBON is cut by Waveland Mayor John Longo Oct. 3 officially opening Our Shopping Center, the Coast's newest commercial complex. Shopping center developer Delmer Wilcox holds the ribbon. The center, which has now 15 stores and businesses open, is located on Highway 90 West and Waveland Ave.

Ribbon cutting opens Waveland city of stores

Waveland Mayor John Longo cut a ribbon Thursday signifying the culmination of a dream that Delmer Wilcox has had since the early 1960's. Wilcox, a Waveland appliance dealer, has long dreamed of a regional shopping center, a city of stores on Highway 90, to service all the residents in the western and northern reaches of Hancock County as well as on the coast.

Shortly after Camille, Wilcox acquired property on the highway at Waveland Ave. adjacent to a parcel he already owned, with the hope of starting the shopping center then.

In 1970 Wilcox merged his land with a tract owned by Bay St. Louis attorney Joseph Gex and the two men began work in earnest to bring the center to reality.

National and Southern region firms were contacted with proposals to locate stores in the Waveland complex and by 1972 commitments had been received from National Food Stores and TG&Y Family Centers, Inc. The following year Otasco and Shainbergs joined the growing list of prospective tenants, along with several local merchants.

In past months, Bud Moran, a Hancock County native, contracted with Walgreens, Inc. to operate a Walgreen franchise drugstore. Merchants Bank and Trust Co. signed a lease for temporary quarters in the massive shopping center building until a permanent bank branch could be built at the corner on the highway, and Shoe Town leased space for a retail outlet.

There is space for 21 businesses in the main L-shaped building and more than adequate room for expansion on the south and east side of the property.

Roy Anderson Corp. was the prime contractor to build the 92,000 ft. center surrounded by 300,000 feet of parking space. Financing was handled through the Hancock Mortgage Co. in Gulfport and Merchants Bank.

Business concerns which opened doors for business officially last Thursday include Peggy's dress shop, Merchants Bank, Pauline's Ladies Sportswear, Waveland Package Goods liquor store, Quality Drugs Walgreen's Agency, Happy Days and Tasty Treats Ice Cream Parlor, Shainberg's, Otasco and Shoe Town.

Businesses completing interior work and planning to be opened in the near future are McCutcheon's Real Estate, Sea Coast Echo office, Catherine's Jewelry and Gifts, Annie's Pantry and Waveland Dixie Bakery.

Projected opening date for National Foods is early January, and this November for TG&Y, Wilcox said.

Bring school loan petitions in today

Bay-Waveland area citizens circulating petitions for a public election on the proposed $30,300 loan for the city school district are notified to take all petitions to the City Clerk in Waveland City Hall no later than today.

Although Bay City Commissioner Lucien Kidd has stated that the deadline for filing the petition is October 14, it is advised that the various sheets in circulation for the petition should be returned today to Waveland City Hall to be photocopied and compiled for presentation by the deadline date.

Hancock Chamber to sponsor Bargain Days

A Community Bargain Days has been scheduled for November 14, 15 and 16 in Hancock County sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

The event will be a joint effort among all the retail merchants in the county, primarily those in the Bay-Waveland area, according to Chamber President Mac Haas.

The Chamber will hold a daily drawing for a $25 U. S. Savings Bond as one of the special features of the Bargain Days event as well as a $100 Bond for a grand prize on the Monday following the Community Bargain Days. Participating merchants will provide drawings, prizes and special prices on selected merchandise for the three-day activity.

Further details on the event will be announced in subsequent weeks.

Waveland elections draw 13 candidates

A total of 13 candidates qualified before the 4 p.m. deadline Monday for six municipal posts in Waveland that will be up for grabs in a Nov. 5 Democratic primary.

The positions that the six incumbents and seven challengers will be vying for include all the elective posts in the city. They are mayor, four alderman seats, and city treasurer.

The primary marks the first time in the history of any Waveland election that voters will not elect anyone to the post of Town Marshal and Tax Collector. That position was abolished earlier this year by the board of aldermen to become effective with the next election.

The aldermen created a new Chief of Police position that will be appointive and combined the tax collector's post with that of tax assessor, also to be appointive.

Out of the six city posts, three incumbents remained unopposed. They were Charles Johnson, alderman from Ward One, Al Grass, alderman from Ward Two, and Treasurer Willie Bourgeois.

The greatest number of challengers were drawn to Ward Three where incumbent Dan Campion will face a field of five candidates trying to unseat him. Campion is finishing his first term as alderman.

In Ward Four incumbent Ducre Bourgeois is being opposed by Herman Yarbrough.

Mayor John Longo, who won a special mayoralty election in February to fill the unexpired term of office of the late Garfield Ladner, is being opposed by Waveland real estate broker Bea Georgi.

If no candidate gets a majority of votes in the six races, a run-off election will be conducted one week later.

Dr. Shafer accepts Pass High post

The Pass Christian school board recently elected Dr. Paul Shafer as assistant principal for Pass High.

In accepting the appointment, Dr. Shafer is moving from the staff of the Pass Christian Middle School where he was serving as an English teacher.

Dr. Shafer completed his undergraduate and graduate education at the University of Southern Mississippi. He holds a B.S. and M. Ed in English and a Ed. D. in administration and supervision. His school experiences include teaching English on the secondary level in Idaho, California, and Mississippi and on the college level at Gulf Park and Alabama State. He was last employed as a principal in the Hancock County system.

In addition to Dr. Shafer, the board elected Mr. John James Altier as an English teacher for the Pass Middle School; Miss Glennie Faye Caldwell as a social science teacher for the district and Mrs. Kay Berry as district speech therapist.

The board approved a payment of $4,385.50 to McDaniel Refrigeration for a refrigerator-freezer recently installed in the Delisle Elementary cafeteria. A bill from Joe Hayden Plumbing Company for $103.65 for plumbing repairs was approved.

In other action, the board accepted several low bids earlier taken under consideration. They accepted the $159 bid of M&S Music Co. for a trumpet for Pass Middle School. They also accepted the bid of the Martin School Co. for office equipment; Martin was the low bid at $71.50 each for three suspension files and $75 for a bookcase for the administrative office at DeLisle.

Rotary hosts anniversary barbecue

The Bay St. Louis Rotary Club will celebrate its 50th anniversary in traditional style with a civic assistance activity.

The Rotary Club has issued an invitation to the public to attend an anniversary barbecue Saturday from 5:30 - 7:30 p.m. from which all proceeds will benefit Hancock General Hospital.

The barbecue will be held at Virginia Hall, Christ Episcopal Church on South Beach in Bay St. Louis. A complete dinner with refreshments will be available at a donation of $5 per person. Dinners can be taken out or eaten at Virginia Hall.

Elementary. Also accepted was the low bid of $735 from B&B Tree Service for the removal of dead trees and limbs throughout the district.

The board also accepted low bids for physical education equipment and rejected the single bid for food staples for the district cafeterias.

The distribution of Gideon Bibles throughout the schools was approved by the board.

The board also approved the low bid of Thomas Spencer for building maintenance on the school facilities.

City to suffer gas pains again

Bay St. Louis residents will face another hike in gas rates beginning November 1, according to City Utility Commissioner Lucien Kidd at a Monday meeting.

The city has been put on notice by United Gas Co. that effective Nov. 1 natural gas prices will increase 14.33 cents per thousand cubic feet which represents approximately 26.15 percent increase to the city. In addition, Kidd related, the gas company will impose a 19.12 percent surcharge for the months of November and December. The increase will have to be passed on to the consumer, Kidd said.

After some discussion as to the legality of the cutoff date for residents to file tax assessment complaints, the council agreed on Oct. 15 as the last day on which petitions for changes in tax assessments will be considered for the 1974 tax year.

Petitions will be accepted any time throughout the calendar year, City Tax Collector Clarence Ladner said, but no action will be taken on such petitions after the Oct. 15 date.

A letter from the Hancock Chamber of Commerce asking the council's consideration of a change to an aldermanic form of government led to a search of state statutes.

Ladner expressed the feeling that the council's opinion should not enter into the matter and that any changes in the form of municipal government "should come by vote of the people". Mayor Warren Carver at first suggested a meeting on the matter and presentation of a unified council opinion at a later date.

However, a search of state laws by city attorney Joseph Gex revealed that the council is prevented from taking action by Sec. 21-3-1, which states that "any municipality not now operating under a 'code charter' may acquire (the code charter) by a majority vote of the electors cast at a general or special election...."

The statute is slightly ambiguous, Gex admitted, in that it does not specify who shall call the election or when the new form would go into effect if it were voted in.

In another matter, an opinion from the state attorney general specified that the city will be responsible for hiring and paying the certified public accounting firm which audits the city school system books. Under a 1971 amendment which authorized the school superintendent to act as financial manager for the school system, the city is held responsible for an annual audit of the school's books by a licensed individual or firm.

Not previously aware of the statute, Carver and Ladner said that if the city had to pay for the service they felt it should have the decision on which firm to retain and on the cost of the service. The $5,000 fee now budgeted for a Bay St. Louis firm contracted for the service is too high, Carver stated. No action was taken on the matter.

James Bond has license to operate in LB

by David Pierson
Long Beach Bureau

James Bond, president of Bond Paving Company of Gulfport, told the Echo Tuesday that his company will not stop operations in Long Beach because they have a lease from the railroad company. The lease, Bond said, permits his company to unload slag near the intersection of Jeff Davis Avenue and Railroad Street.

Last week the Long Beach city council voted unanimously to take legal action to force Bond Paving to leave. Alderman Moran said at the meeting that he had received numerous complaints from Long Beach citizens. Mayor Sam Maxwell said that his office has received well over a hundred complaints.

Many of the complaints deal with the noise, and some say that the dust that arises from the unloading operations creates a traffic hazard.

Bond said, "Bond Paving Company desires to cooperate in every respect with the city of Long Beach but cannot afford to be put out of business because of personal ideas of specific individuals."

Asked if the unanimous vote of the city council was in fact "personal ideas of specific individuals," Bond replied that as a taxpayer his company has the right to use the facility and that just because Maxwell was voted, the mayor of a city doesn't give him the right to keep taxpayers from using their facilities. He also said that Long Beach cannot levy a special tax on his operations.

Bond Paving Company, which is not now constructing in Long Beach, is involved in overlaying US Highway 90 west of Gulfport.

DEATHS

THOMAS JOHNSTON GARNER

Thomas J. Garner, former Assistant Freight Traffic Manager of the Southern Railway System at New Orleans, died early Wednesday at Hancock General Hospital, Bay St. Louis, after a lengthy illness. He was 86. Mr. Garner had lived at Bay St. Louis since his retirement in 1958.

A native of Washington, D.C., he was educated at George Washington University. He began his service with the Southern Railway in 1908. In World War I he served as Second and First Lieutenant in the U.S. Army, returning to the railroad in 1920. In 1917 he married the former Sophia Holland Flitts of Washington and Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. Garner held the positions of Freight Traffic Representative at Lynchburg, Va. from 1921 to 1927; Commercial Agent at Richmond, Va. from 1927 to 1938. In 1938 he was appointed Foreign Freight Agent at New Orleans. In 1943 he became Assistant Freight Traffic Manager, the position he held until his retirement.

Mr. Garner was active in civic, social, and church affairs. He was a Life Member of the Traffic Club of New Orleans, a member of the Young Men's Business Club, the Kiwanis Club, and International House. He was a vestryman of Trinity Episcopal Church. A life-long Mason, he was recently honored by Louisiana Lodge No. 102 for 50 years in Masonry. He belonged to Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, was the holder of a Key to the City of New Orleans, and for many years was active in two carnival organizations.

Upon his retirement, Mr. Garner moved to Bay St. Louis. He served as president of the Bay-Waveland Rotary Club, and a vestryman of Christ Episcopal Church. He was also a member of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by one brother, Lucian Garner, of Rutland, Vermont; one sister, Miss Louise S. Garner of Bay St. Louis; one daughter, Mrs. Wm. H. McCandless, Jr. of New Orleans and Bay St. Louis; two grandchildren, Wm. H. McCandless III and Mrs. Gerald C. Johnson, both of New Orleans, and one great-grandson.

Services are scheduled for 2 p.m. Thursday at Christ Episcopal Church, Bay St. Louis, Miss., with interment in the Garden of Memory, Bay St. Louis.

Pallbearers were William H. McCandless III, Gerald C. Johnson and George Corcoran, all from New Orleans; Lloyd B. Griffith and William D. Kellogg, Bay St. Louis.

BABY JOSEPH GRASS

A graveside service for Baby Joseph Grass, a six-hour old twin son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert John Grass of Waveland, who died at 3:20 a.m. Sunday September 29, at L. O. Crosby Memorial Hospital, Picayune, was held at 3 p.m. Monday at Waveland Cemetery with Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Scanlon, pastor St. Clare Catholic Church, officiating.

The child and his twin sister, Mary Victoria, were born September 29 in Picayune.

Survivors, in addition to his parents and twin sister, are twin brothers, Gary and Charles Grass; another sister, Allison Grass, paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert N. Grass all of Waveland; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Maxie L. Blackwell, Laurel, Miss.; and maternal great-grandparents Mr. and Mrs. James Easterling, Richton, Miss.

McLaughlin-Carter debate scheduled in Jackson

The controversial White House Jesuit priest will bring his charm, intellect and booming baritone voice to the state this month to debate a nationally known Mississippi journalist on the subject of the news media.

Outspoken Jesuit priest and Deputy Special Assistant to former President Nixon, Dr. John McLaughlin and the nationally known editor of the Greenville Delta Democrat-Times, Hodding Carter III, will match wits during a debate on "The Role of the News Media in Government" at a Mississippi Economic Council seminar for the state's outstanding young business and professional leaders in Jackson, Tuesday, October 29.

The debate between McLaughlin and Carter will be the featured segment of a day-long MEC seminar designed to interest and involve Mississippi's outstanding young business and professional leaders in the affairs of state.

The seminar, the first of two to be held by MEC during its 1974-75 business year, will be attended by a group of 50 young business and professional leaders and advanced university students from all sections of the state. The seminar participants were selected from some 250 nominees suggested by the Council's board of directors, local chambers of commerce throughout the state, and colleges and universities.

Dr. McLaughlin made history in 1971 by becoming the first Roman Catholic clergyman ever to take a salaried position at the White House when former President Nixon appointed him as assistant to the chief White House speechwriter.

Since that time Dr. McLaughlin has been in the public limelight because of his outspoken positions on priests, politics and morality, as well as his hard-hitting speeches written for the former President.

McLaughlin dominated headlines during the last days of the Nixon administration for his scorching defenses of the former President. During a news conference on the White House lawn, he was quoted as saying the criticisms of President Nixon were "erroneous, unjust and contained elements of hypocrisy." Later, on a nationally televised news program, McLaughlin declared that "historians would regard Richard Nixon the greatest moral leader of the last third of this century."

Following these remarks, Dr. McLaughlin was again in the news when his Jesuit superior, the Very Reverend Richard Cleary of the Jesuit Provincial of New England, summoned him home to Boston for "prayer and reflection."

After former President Nixon's resignation and President Ford's ascension to the White House, Dr. McLaughlin was a holdover aide until his recent resignation effective October 15.

Dr. McLaughlin's background is varied. He holds a Ph.D. from Columbia University in education and two M.A. degrees from Boston College in English and philosophy and has done advanced study in communications, social psychology and political science. As an ordained and active Jesuit priest, he also holds degrees in theology.

McLaughlin's lecturing and government tours have taken him to the campuses of many well-known universities and to foreign countries including South Vietnam, Thailand, Laos, Cambodia, Lebanon, Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Indonesia and Australia.

In 1970 McLaughlin tried his luck at elective politics as he unsuccessfully challenged John Pastore of Rhode Island for his U.S. Senate seat.

During recent months McLaughlin has appeared on numerous television programs discussing social and political issues including The Today Show, The Dick Cavett Show, The Merv Griffin Show, 60 Minutes, The Tomorrow Show and The Mike Douglas Show.

Dr. McLaughlin's counterpart in the MEC debate is also nationally known, both as an outstanding journalist and as a leader in the National Democratic Party.

Hodding Carter III has played a major role in the direction of the Democratic Party during the past five years, serving as a member of the Party's Rule Reform Commission, Charter Commission, and Credentials Committee.

During the 1972 Democratic National Convention, Carter held many official capacities and was hailed as one of the party's "bright Southern stars." During the convention he received a substantial number of delegate votes for the nomination as Vice President.

Carter's journalistic abilities are well-known both statewide and nationally as he has been cited for three Pulitzer Prizes in journalism, as well as numerous other prestigious journalism and leadership awards.

In 1957 Carter graduated summa cum laude from Princeton University and has studied at Harvard as a Nieman Fellow in Journalism. A prolific writer, Carter authored The South Strikes Back, as well as many other books, magazines and newspaper stories.

The public affairs seminar to be held by MEC is under the auspices of the Council's Human Resources Committee chaired by Dr. Aubrey Lucas, president of Delta State University and moderator for the program.

Lucas said the idea for a program to identify the state's outstanding young business and professional leaders and involve them in the affairs of state originated with the Council's Board of Directors.

"The Directors saw a need to develop a program that would encourage Mississippi's young people to become more actively involved in public affairs of the state to assure Mississippi's continued development," Lucas said.

Lucas said the seminar on "The Role of the News Media in Government" would be a one-day affair consisting of a debate between Dr. McLaughlin and Hodding Carter III; a panel discussion with McLaughlin, Carter, and representatives of government and the news media in Mississippi; a luncheon; and general discussion among seminar delegates and program participants.

"We believe the program will be fascinating due to the relevancy of the topic, as well as the contrasting political ideologies of the panelists," Lucas said.

MEC's second Human Resources seminar, scheduled in the spring, will feature an examination of government in Mississippi.

Mental Health Center open house is Sunday

The public is invited to an Open House at the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. The center's new facility is located at 4514 Old Pass Road, across from the Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

A special feature will be a showing of the new color film "Journey" produced by the National Association for Mental Health. Show times are 3:15 and 4 p.m. "Journey" was written and directed by Robert Anderson, whose credits for television and film documentaries include both an Emmy and a Peabody Award. The film deals with such questions and considerations as the symptoms of emotional problems, how to respond to a person with an emotional problem, fears that keep people from seeking help, and what it's like to get professional help.

Staff members will conduct tours of the building and discuss the center's various mental health programs, activities and services.

The Gulf Coast Mental Health Center serves everyone in Harrison, Hancock, Pearl River, and Stone counties.

Basic services of the center are consultation-education, outpatient, day treatment, inpatient, aftercare for hospital patients, and crisis intervention.

Specialized services include programs in alcohol and drug misuse and development disabilities.

The center's staff of 35 includes professionals with training in psychiatry, psychology, social work, counseling, public health and nursing.

U. S. Congressman Trent Lott will be the main speaker at the dedication ceremonies for the center which was built at a cost of $585,000. Federal funds provided 62 percent of the money and 38 percent came from local sources.

The Mental Health Center is primarily supported through millage from the four Coast counties supplemented by state and federal grants.

Gulfport Memorial Hospital was the lead applicant for federal grants and provide the four-acre plot on which the center is located.

A special ceremony has been planned dedicating the center library in the memory of the late Dr. George M.

Wilson, a Coast psychiatrist who was active in the development of mental health services for this area. Dr. Wilson died in 1971.

Serving on the Region 13 Commission for Mental Health-Mental Retardation are John C. Dees, chairman from Stone County, L. V. Evans, vice-chairman from Pearl River Co., A. L. McKnight, secretary from Harrison Co., and James A. Rester, treasurer from Hancock Co.

Reflections of the past

Edwin Briggs, Prof. Talbot, Henry Chevis, Terrell Perkins, Coach Morris B. DePass, John Waters and George Horton. According to John Waters, who now lives in Metairie, La., and submitted the picture, the team practiced on the Perkins' front lawn and played games on the field behind the school. (Readers are urged to submit photos for use in Reflections. All photos will be returned unharmed at the Echo office in Bay St. Louis.)

Bay stores report weekend thefts

Bay St. Louis police are investigating burglaries of two Bay businesses in which a quantity of merchandise was stolen.

Harold Carver, operator of Jerome's Men's Store on Main St. reported a break in Oct. 4 in which some $300 in assorted men's clothing was taken.

In the pre-dawn hours Wednesday morning police discovered a front plate glass window broken in the Western Auto store on Highway 90. Store manager listed as stolen one television set as well as an assortment of radios and tape players, wrist watches, fish bait and tackle and other items. Cost of items stolen has been estimated at $500, police chief William Carbonette said.

You don't have to "give big" to be a United Way contributor. The smallest donation, from the heart, is as welcome as the biggest - and every little bit counts.

Testing available

Mrs. Wm. R. Lamb, president of the Hancock County Retarded Children's Association in Bay St. Louis wishes to inform parents of special children who have not been tested or evaluated that these services are always readily available at the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center at 4514 Old Pass Road in Gulfport - call toll free 1-863-1132.

Although the Center is located in Gulfport, it belongs to the people of Hancock County, and is a United Way Agency. A clinic is held each Friday at St. Augustine's Seminary in Bay St. Louis, and charges are made on a sliding scale, depending upon one's ability to pay. Any further information on services to the children can be obtained by calling Mrs. Lamb at Gulf National Bank or Mrs. Mae Beyer of the United Way in Bay St. Louis. With small contributions received by the association

the special education school purchased a quantity of paper back books from Simon & Schuster, written for the special child. "It is gratifying to see the enjoyment the books have given our children, who have never before had the pleasure of being able to read at their own interest level," Mrs. Lamb said.

I am a sick American

There are those who claim ours is a "sick" society; that may be our country is sick; our government is sick; that we are sick. Well, maybe they're right. I submit that I'm sick... and maybe you are too. I am sick of having policemen ridiculed and called "pigs" while cop killers are hailed as some kind of folk hero.

I am sick of being told that religion is the opiate of people, but marijuana should be legalized.

I am sick of commentators and columnists canonizing anarchists, revolutionaries and criminal rapists, but condemning law enforcement when such criminals are brought to justice.

I am sick of being told that pornography is the right of free press, but freedom of the press does not include being able to read the Bible in school.

I am sick of paying more and more taxes to build schools while I see some faculty members encouraging students either to tear them down or burn them.

I am sick of such things as a guy who is a traitor by stealing government secrets being heralded and paid high emoluments on the campuses and those who meant to expose him sent to jail.

I am sick of Supreme Court decisions which turn criminals loose on society — You will find me contributing my time, money and personal influence to helping church, hospital, charities and other establishments which have shown the true spirit of this country's determination to ease pain, suffering, eliminate hunger and generate brotherhood.

But, most of all, you'll find me at the polling place. There if you listen you can hear the thunder of the common man. There, all of us can cast our vote for an America where people can walk the streets without fear.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Claiborne had the best of reasons for loyalty to the Confederacy. He came from a noteworthy Southern family, he had acquired honors as a legislator and writer of Southern history, his son had been killed in action with the Confederate army, and he owned a hundred slaves. But in spite of all this, he espoused the Union cause.

However, he was not averse to adding a few feathers to the Claiborne nest through his anti-Southern activities. Though he lived in New Orleans during most of the war, he continued to operate the plantation at Laurel Wood and, by engaging himself to serve as purchasing agent in the Confederacy for the Belgian consul of New Orleans, he was able to transport through the lines, under a pass issued by Admiral Farragut and General Emory, cotton raised by himself and other planters on the Pearl River.

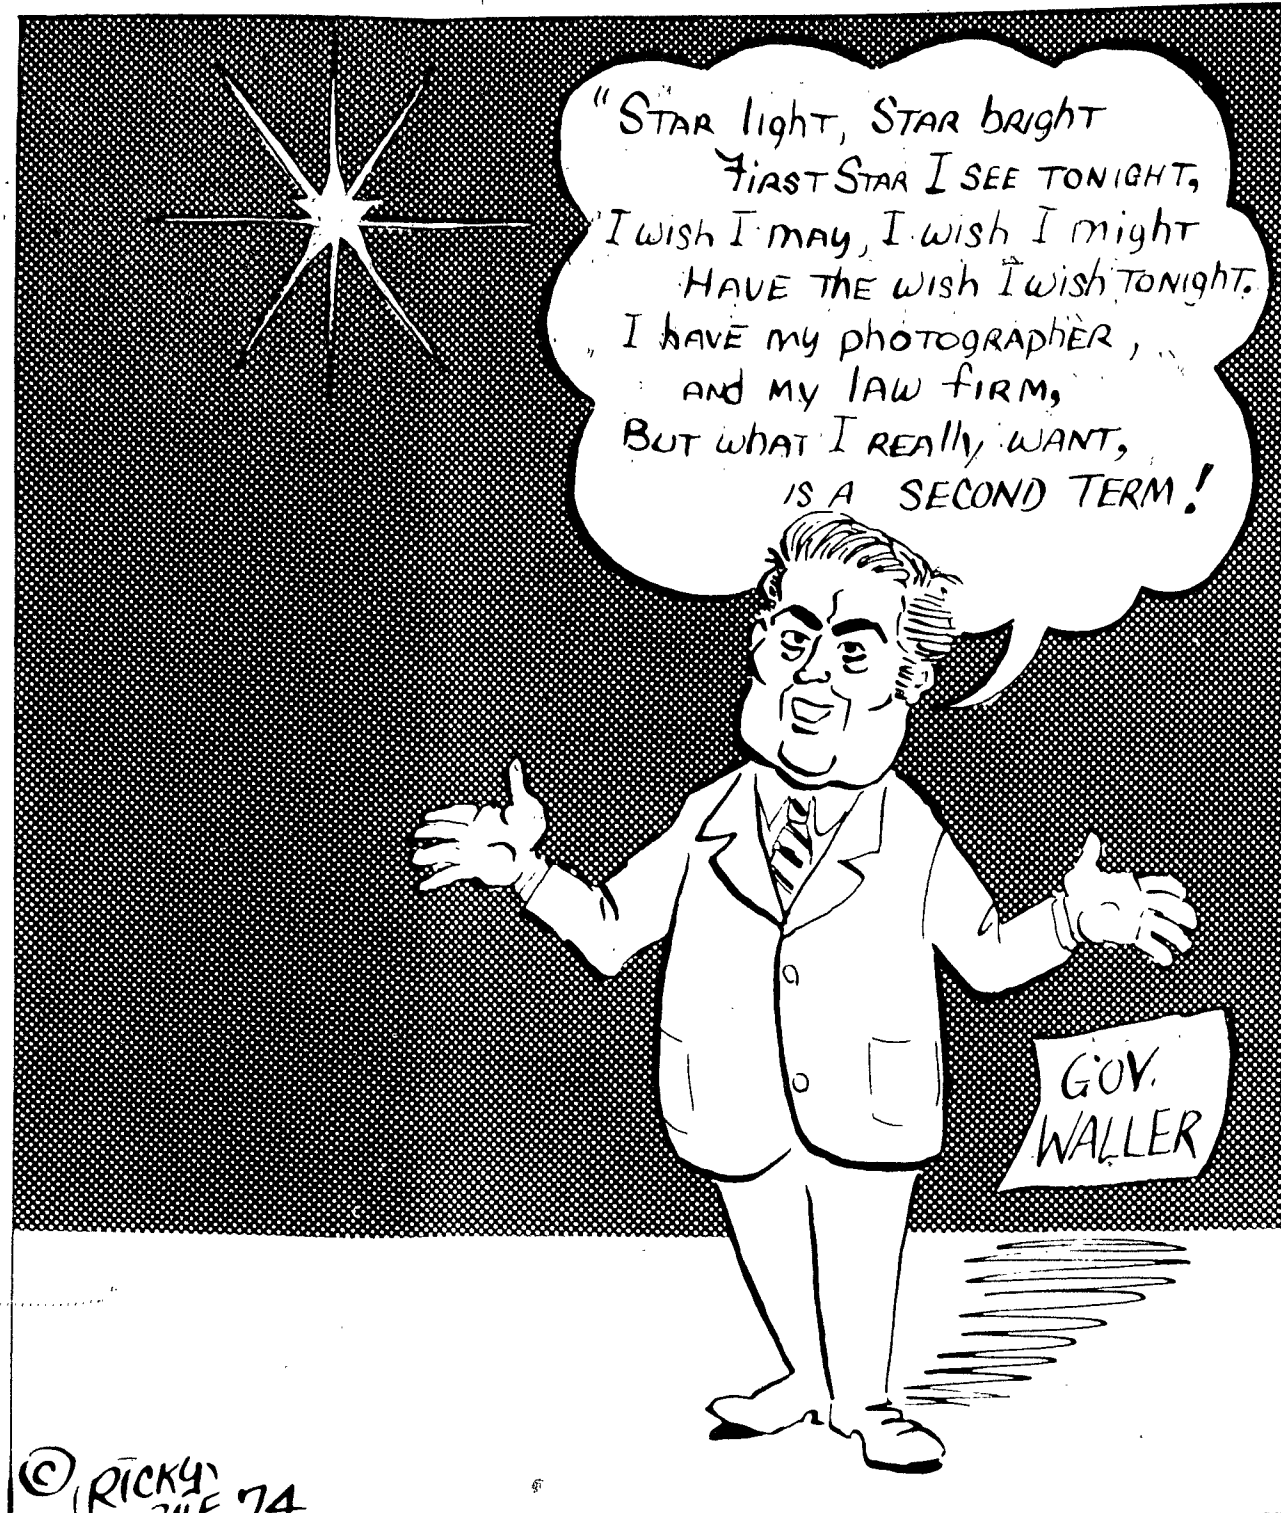

Always maintaining his cover, Claiborne continued to supply to Banks vital information of anti-Union activities in south Mississippi. At the same time that he was betraying his former neighbors, he expressed nothing but contempt for them. In one letter he wrote to Banks "Few of them can be addressed through their moral sense of duty. They are essentially animal. When the Civil War broke out they eagerly volunteered... with the hope of plunder. But the mortality that has occurred among them has disgusted them with the service. Most of all, they feel the pressure of want in their families. . . . A vigorous exclusion would bring this whole seaboard to its allegiance in 3 months."

Ah last, the war was over, and Claiborne returned to a dilapidated Laurel Wood where he took the amnesty oath in July, 1865, and became closely allied with the carpetbag government of Mississippi. In 1869, the Republican boss at Pass Christian nominated him for the legislature, but Claiborne declined, saying "I stand without a party... owing allegiance to none, in fellowship with none, asking favors of none, under obligation to none."

Brave words - but the gentleman from Laurel Wood already was co-operating with Adelbert Ames, the carpetbag governor, and writing newspaper articles in support of General Grant. The New Orleans "Pilot" printed several of these endorsements.

In 1870, five years after the end of the war, Claiborne left Laurel Wood and went to live with his wife and daughters at "Dunbarton" in Natchez, a fine plantation and home which he had inherited from his mother-in-law. Although he still retained his Coast lands, he seldom visited them; one of his last trips to the Coast was to address his old neighbors of Bay St. Louis during the centennial celebration on July 4, 1876; his subject was "National Unity", with a plea for an end to sectional animosities. It is said that a small crowd of local people gave him "courteous attention".

On October 9, 1974, the total was over two million dollars.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor:

I must say people in Bay St. Louis and Waveland will take anything from what I read in Letters To The Editor. Look at streets in Waveland, no one to shoulder the blame and do something about it to help the people so as to get through some of these streets.

Now to ask Chris to do something is like asking nobody because that's the way it goes. Why can't they put gravel in some holes to let people get through and cut down the sides of streets so as to let water off roadways? It stands for days. So simple but no, they think you're trying to tell them what to do, what do they get paid for to ride around and do nothing? If they would tell the men that do the work they would do it because when you ask the men they say we're not told to do that and see Chris. Now it's back to the buck passer.

I know this note means nothing because I'm from New Orleans but I have four children who stay over for months at a time so you can see what we spend in Waveland.

Now when we get home I have to have my car looked over which cost plenty from staying in Waveland and the roads you go through in one day.

Wake up Mr. Mayor and do what you're suppose to do and get rid of the do nothing men. You know what President Nixon got from letting the men do as they please.

From one that thinks we shall go to Mandeville next year. There are NO buck passers over there - go see for yourself.

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

NO GAS TAX!

When the fur started flying last week after someone suggested that a 10-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax was still being actively considered, one of the federal energy bureaucrats defensively labeled the suggestion as nothing more than a "trial balloon."

Some indignant wag quickly reminded him that his trial balloon went over like a lead balloon.

To put it mildly, the people of this country are in no mood for ANY increase in federal gasoline taxes. And if that goes over the head of any pinhead bureaucrat, he should have his head examined.

"It would be an effective way to raise enough money for the new government jobs program, for tax relief to the poor, and for offsetting new expenditures to prop up the housing industry," another bureaucrat suggested.

"And by diminishing gasoline consumption through higher prices, a tax would contribute to the new emphasis on energy conservation, and help put a squeeze on the oil-producing cartel to lower world-wide petroleum prices," he continued.

In my opinion, consideration of such a regressive tax is ridiculous!

The most significant thing a new gas tax would do would be to price gasoline out of reach of the poor, the very people the tax would be designed to relieve. It would simply make it where only the rich could afford it.

From a more local point of view, it would be a severe blow to the men from Leakesville or Beaumont or Lucedale who drive to the Pascagoula shipyard to work every day. For that matter, it would be a severe blow to anyone who drives to work. And what about those retired people who are living on a fixed Social Security income? How in the world could they afford another increase when they barely get by as it is?

With those points clearly in mind, I contacted White House officials and demanded an explanation. I was told that President Ford's new Economic Policy Board is considering the tax along with a number of other possible steps, but that President Ford himself is opposed to the idea.

I just hope he stays opposed to it. Going a step further, I contacted the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles congressional tax legislation. I was assured that no proposal of this nature is being considered in any form at this time.

Still, there is that nagging statement by L. William Seidman, executive director of the Economic Policy Board, who suggested that a gasoline tax is "one of the things being considered."

At this stage, I think it is nothing more than just that: "one of the things being considered." I hardly think they could be serious about it.

But if they should ever make such a proposal, this is one Congressman who will cast a resounding "NO" vote.

In gratitude

Plaques of appreciation for assistance in a time of need are presented to South Mississippi Sun reporter Bill Gaudet, left, and Waveland Mayor John Longo by Mrs. Cathy Holzhauser, representing the Gulf Fishermen's Association. The presentation came during an appreciation dinner Saturday night, hosted by the association. City and county officials attended as well as State Senator Martin Smith, visible center background.

Mobile Medic

Is this anyway to run an insurance company?

by David Pierson
Long Beach Bureau

Two hunters who had a limited knowledge of the wildlife in their area were perplexed by the appearance of a strange-looking animal a few feet away. The two hunters argued over what the animal was and whether or not it was in season. Finally, one of the men aimed his gun at the thing and said to his friend, "It ain't quail, them's buffalo." So, since it was buffalo season, he shot the last remaining whooping crane in North America.

There is a correlation between this story and the state hunting — or, insurance commission's recent inquiry into the status of the Mobile Medic subscription ambulance service.

The state insurance commission concluded that a subscription ambulance company was actually an insurance company on wheels, and consequently it was fair game. But what exactly is this new breed of animal — Mobile Medic?

In short, Mobile Medic is a 24 hour emergency first-aid ambulance service. Not only does it transport the victim to the hospital, but it also renders immediate help for the patient.

In the case of a coronary patient or an accident victim, treatment on the way to the hospital may be the difference between life and death. The paramedics, who are trained to handle many different emergency situations, can radio ahead to the hospital for instructions on how to treat the patient; this also helps the doctor at the hospital because he will be prepared for the case and not have to lose valuable time checking the victim's vital signs (medics in the ambulance check the patient's vital signs when they arrive on the scene, and they stay with the patient to record any changes).

Hopefully, there will not be many instances where the patient will be in this life-or-death situation, but it is good to know that the Mobile Medic units are prepared for such cases.

Mobile Medic can also make the trip to the hospital a lot safer and more comfortable for the patient. For instance, a person suffering from a broken hip can be subjected to further pain and injury by an ambulance speeding to the hospital. The Mobile Medic units, however, try to drive at a moderate speed so that the bumps on the road do not further injure the patient. Mobile Medic also has special stretchers for hip and spinal injury victims, and this reduces the chances of further complications.

Much has already been said about Mobile Medic being a free enterprise, profit-making organization. But the most important single factor is that it would be difficult to get trained medical corpsmen if the ambulance service was subsidized. Burt Patterson, secretary-treasurer for Mobile Medic, said that Mobile Medic needed incentives to attract good medical corpsmen. For starters, Patterson said that Mobile Medic offers a much higher salary than the surrounding subsidized ambulance services.

Presently, Mobile Medic has ten people who work in the ambulances. Four of these men are medical corpsmen — that is, they have taken and passed a 400 hour course in emergency medical treatment. Four others have completed an 81 hour emergency medical course, and the remaining two are working on their EMT courses.

The goal of Mobile Medic, says Patterson, is to have each of the on-call medical personnel in each of the $22,000 ambulances able to operate all the equipment. If Mobile Medic can realize this goal, then the medics will be able to work interchangeably with each other. After all, said Patterson, the man driving the ambulance must understand the instructions and information that is being relayed between the ambulance and the hospital.

An interesting feature of Mobile Medic is the zone coverage of the Waveland-Gulfport area. If an ambulance is dispatched from the station in Bay St. Louis, for example, the people in Hancock County will not have the protection of that ambulance until it returns. To protect these people in the meantime, the ambulance in the Long Beach substation will move half-way between the Long Beach and Bay St. Louis zone; and in case of another emergency in the area, this ambulance can be reached by radio. This guarantees everyone that an ambulance will be nearby, even when a unit is on-call.

Douglas Burgin, president of Mobile Medic, got the idea for this type of ambulance service from the Acadian Ambulance Company that operates in and around Lafayette, Louisiana. Residents in that area are apparently very enthusiastic and knowledgeable of their ambulance service.

This is in contrast to the little that people on the coast knew of their ambulance services prior to Mobile Medic. Many people on the coast were surprised to hear that as of August 1 when the funeral homes stopped offering ambulance service, there were no ambulances for the Waveland-Gulfport area. Ambulance service was not, as they found out, one of their inherent rights as citizens. Unless there was some kind of service to fill the void, our only ambulance would be the neighbor's station wagon.

So Mobile Medic, which moved into the area, began an intensified campaign to subscribe members for the new ambulance service. The subscription rate for a family is $15 a year — that covers all expenses inside the Mobile Medic's area. If, however, someone is not a subscription member and needs ambulance service, the price will run around $40 - $45. The reason for the low subscription price in contrast to the non-subscription fee was twofold: to encourage people to join and to get enough money to finance the capital investment for such an operation (buying the ambulances and paying salaries). As of the deadline of August 1, Mobile Medic had 11,373 members) that covers approximately 32,000 people.

In the first two months of operation the company received 793 calls for an average of 13 calls a day, almost half of which (364) were emergencies.

The company also has built-in safeguards to protect the public from someone absconding with the money. First, the books are open for inspection anytime. Second, there must be three co-signers on all checks — one of the signatures being from a member on the EMS council. The members on that council are Dr. Magruder Corban, chairman; John Rester; N.C. "Bo" Bowden; Jimmy Jenkins; John Strickland, Long Beach fireman; George Mixon, Pass Christian fire chief; Harvis Cuevas; Don McIntyre, Civil Defense director for Hancock County; and Dr. Andrew K. Martinovich, radiologist.

The third safeguard for subscribers is that if Mobile Medic goes out of business, the EMS Council has the right to buy the six mobile medic ambulances for the communities at whatever the cost Mobile Medic has left outstanding on all its unpaid bills. This guarantees at least the presence of the ambulances on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Mobile Medic is not the last of a dying species, like the whooping crane; in fact, if the free enterprise system is right, it may be the beginning of a new breed.

Coast Psychiatric Unit Opens

A nineteen bed psychiatric unit has been opened at Memorial Hospital at Gulfport, providing the first such facility in the area for the public.

The new unit is located in the recently completed West Wing of the hospital and features the Friesen Concept of nursing care that keeps nursing personnel near the patient. Mrs. Ann Bobinger, R.N. supervisor of the unit said "The unit was planned to provide a home-like atmosphere departing from the institutional look. Highlight of the decor is a mural depicting a forest scene covering the entire wall at the end of the corridor." She explained "a large recreation room provides an area for patients to visit, play games, watch television, or participate in current projects. Patients have a choice of selective menus and will eat their meals in a dining room rather than the usual tray in the room. Dietary and the nursing staff have made plans for picnics and special parties. Patients will be responsible for their own room as a form of therapy and a washer-dryer is provided on the unit for their use."

Mrs. Bobinger continued "An open atmosphere is maintained on the unit with few restrictions. Visitation will be allowed on Saturday and Sunday mornings in addition to the regular visiting hours."

With four psychiatrists on the hospital Medical Staff, Dr. William Bass, Chief of the section, said he feels the patient will benefit by being in his own home community, where he can remain in contact with his family and current events of the day. The other psychiatrists on the Medical Staff are Dr. Henry Maggio, Dr. Clifton Davis, and Dr. George Wilkerson. Dr. Davis is Clinical Director of Gulf Coast Mental Health Center.

W. R. Burton, Administrator of the hospital said, "One of the unique features of the unit is the utilization of services of the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center for certain types of therapy and activities, such as group therapy, recreational therapy and occupational therapy. This arrangement resulted in creation of a complete mental health program at less cost than separate programs requiring duplication of staff and facilities."

In addition to private patients and those referred through Gulf Coast Mental Health, the facility will also accept patients awaiting psychiatric evaluation for possible commitment to state mental institutions.

Council backs Mobile Medic

Dr. Magruder S. Corban, chairman of the West Harrison-Hancock County Emergency Medical Service Council, issued the following statement concerning the recent inquiry into Mobile Medic:

The EMS Council recently held a meeting at Gulfport Memorial Hospital where the current controversy over the legal status of the council-sponsored Mobile Medic Ambulance Service was reviewed.

The current controversy arose over the application of a general policy statement of the state insurance commission to Mobile Medic. The council believes that when the state insurance commission and the attorney general have had an opportunity to review the degree of public involvement and control over the operations of Mobile Medic and that they will find no evidence of wrongdoing.

Adequate safeguards to protect the public interest were required by the boards of supervisors and elected municipal officials before the council was authorized to endorse the service. These included a separate account for all subscription funds controlled by the EMS Council and disbursed on a quarterly basis, incorporation of the firm, a by-sell agreement favoring the council on all capital expenditures, and quarterly review of all operations of the firm by the EMS Council.

It is the Council's opinion, at this time, that Mobile Medic is providing an important community service which would not otherwise be available. They are providing it in a highly efficient and professional manner without the use of any tax money. In less than two months of operation they have already handled 729 calls including 331 emergencies, 337 transfers and 61 non-transportable calls.

The widespread support of Mobile Medic and the EMS Council at this time by both the citizenry and the elected public officials has been most heartening. No further action will be taken by the EMS Council until a final legal ruling has been obtained. In the meantime the public may rest assured that the EMS Council with the full backing of the elected public officials will take whatever steps are necessary to insure continuation and further improvement of the current high level service being provided by Mobile Medic.

Four injured in Bay crash

Four Bay St. Louis youth were injured, one seriously, late Friday evening when their Ford camper truck collided with an unloaded flatbed truck owned by Coast Wholesale Supply, Long Beach, at the intersection of Turner and Victoria Streets.

Listed in good condition at Gulfport Memorial Hospital with head injuries is Andy Favre, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Hugo Favre, Bay St. Louis. Others injured were Hugo Favre, Jr., 17; Gregory Bermond, 11; and Roger Cheatham, 16. Bermond was hospitalized at Hancock General Hospital with a fractured hip.

Investigating officer Douglas Williams of the Bay St. Louis Police Department said that the Favre vehicle, driven by Hugo Favre Jr. and traveling west on Victoria Street, collided with the second vehicle operated by James C. Conerly traveling North on Turner, after both vehicles approached the intersection at the same time. Officer Williams reported there was no stop sign at the intersection.

Both drivers were charged with reckless driving and causing property damage pending a court hearing. Officer Emmett Ellis assisted in the investigation.

This flatbed truck owned by Coast Wholesale Supply, Long Beach, was completely upended Friday after striking a second vehicle at the intersection of Victoria and Turner Street in Bay St. Louis.

Voter list is posted by ASC

A list of the names of all persons to receive ballots in the upcoming annual ASC committeemen election is available in the county ASCS office.

ASCs, an agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is responsible for farm program administration. On the local level, ASCs operates under a farmer-elected committee system. This year's election will be by mail ballot between Nov. 18 and Dec. 2.

Farmers are asked to nominate candidates of their choice to be on the ASC committee ballot says Madelyn R. Williams, acting county executive director, Pearl River-Hancock ASCS Office.

ASC committeemen are responsible for managing government farm programs on the local level. To meet the needs of individual producers, ASC committee members must be concerned and responsible individuals.

Hancock and Pearl River counties farmers have the opportunity to nominate persons they feel would best serve the farm community. Farmers will soon receive petition forms by mail and may begin submitting them to the county ASCS office on October 3.

A few basic considerations should be kept in mind when circulating petitions, Mrs. Williams said. In order to be valid, petitions must be limited to one nominee each, must include written certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected, must be signed by at least three eligible farm voters in the ASC community, and must be received in the county ASCS office no later than Oct. 29.

A farmer may circulate or sign nominating petitions for as many candidates as he chooses. Anyone wishing to nominate a farmer for the ASC committee election may contact the county ASCS office for full details, including eligibility requirements for officeholders.

Mrs. Williams believes that farmer nominations of candidates for the upcoming ASC committee election are very important.

She said, "Farmers should petition for and elect those individuals they feel would do a good job as ASC committeemen."

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The month of October is designated as UNITED WAY MONTH, when a fund raising campaign will be conducted throughout Hancock County, and each of us will be called upon to give our fair share to continue the support of the eleven agencies included in the Fund: THE RETIRED SENIOR VOLUNTEER PROJECT, RSVP - THE AREAWIDE SENIOR CITIZENS PROJECT - HANCOCK COUNTY EMERGENCY RELIEF FUND - GULF COAST MENTAL HEALTH CENTER - CATHOLIC SOCIAL SERVICES - HANCOCK COUNTY CHAPTER OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS - HANCOCK COUNTY BLOOD BANK - BOY SCOUTS, CYPRESS DISTRICT - GIRL SCOUTS, GULF PINES COUNCIL, CAMP ONWARD (which provides summer vacations for Hancock County children) - THE U.S.O. (WORLDWIDE)

WHEREAS, The UNITED WAY (formerly THE UNITED FUND) is owned and operated by the people of Hancock County and is the instrument of their local charities. It's services reach persons of all ages through the span of life. Your one gift, when combined with that of your neighbor, works many wonders, for it becomes a part of the thousands of human problems one could never solve alone, and in giving and sharing we give back to others less fortunate, our thankfulness for the good things we enjoy in life.

WHEREAS, the goal of the United Way campaign is $30,000. We call on all of our people to contribute.

PROCLAIM that the Mayors of the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland designate the month of October 1974 as UNITED WAY MONTH, and ask your co-operation and support.

WITNESS SIGNATURES the first day of October, 1974.
CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS
Warren J. Carver, Mayor.
CITY OF WAVELAND
John Longo, Mayor.

No stop sign

A lack of stop signs at the intersection of Victoria and Turner Streets in the Bay St. Louis, annexed area resulted in this near tragic accident for four Bay St. Louis youths. This Ford truck driven by Hugo Favre Jr., 17, was completely wrecked after colliding with a flatbed truck owned by Coast Wholesale Supply, Long Beach.

Governor's Committee designs master plan for juvenile affairs

The Governor's Committee for Children and Youth has launched a program of instruction designed to produce a master plan for prevention of juvenile delinquency.

Mississippi and New Mexico are developing plans which, hopefully, will prove to be models which other states can copy or adapt to their own needs.

Representatives from a wide array of public and private agencies engaged in youth programs will work with committee members in constructing the master plan.

Together, they will form an ad hoc planning committee for development of what will be officially titled a Youth Services System for Mississippi. These plans were announced by Dr. Noel C. Womack, Jr., Jackson physician and chairman of the Governor's Committee for Children and Youth.

He said a series of three intensive training sessions will be held over the next five months to prepare committee members for the job ahead. These sessions have been scheduled for November 6-8, January 8-10 and February 12-14 at the Governor's Office of Education and Training.

This office will provide staffing for the effort, headed by Mrs. Ellen Perkinson, who serves as the committee's executive secretary.

Serving as chairman of the project group will be Mrs. Sara Caldwell, of Canton, who has a long career in the field of social services for children, including many years as head of the Division of Children and Youth, State Department of Public Welfare, and service with the Mississippi Interagency Commission on Mental Illness and Mental Retardation, now part of the State Department of Mental Health.

Working with the group will be representatives of the Office of Delinquency Control at the University of Minnesota, operating under a grant from the Office of Youth Development of H.E.W. to coordinate the planning in both Mississippi and New Mexico.

Horse Show to open fair week

A point show of the South Miss. Riding and Rodeo Association sponsored by the Hancock Riding Club is scheduled for Saturday starting at 4 p.m.

The show will open week-long activities of the Fifth Annual Hancock County Fair at the Fairgrounds in Bay St. Louis.

First on the program will be the halter classes. Some of the finest quarter horses in South Mississippi will be competing for five place trophies. These horses are judged on conformation and performance under halter.

Riding begins with judged events in Western Pleasure, Western Riding, Reining, Gaited Pleasure and English Pleasure. There will be Pony Classes in all events for 12-year-old riders and under with ponies.

Timed events are always crowd pleasers as horse and riders race against the clock for points. Running the barrels, poles, stake races and flag races are final events as riders compete to see who can accumulate the most points toward over-all High Point Trophies awarded in the Pony Youth 12 and under, Youth 13-18, Ladies' and Men's Divisions.

Several local and state dignitaries have accepted invitations to participate in awarding the trophies.

Everyone is invited to come out and see some of the State's finest riders.

Several local members of the Hancock Riding Club have accumulated enough points to qualify for the State Championship Horse Show, Oct. 25 and 26 in Cleveland, Miss.

Benefit fashion show scheduled for Friday

The Coast Shrine Auxiliary will sponsor a benefit fashion show at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the West Side Community House in Gulfport.

Mrs. Jean Vann, buyer for Hewes Brothers Department Store, will be in charge of staging the style show, at which formals, sports wear and dresses will be shown.

The United Way reaches into every part of your community...from preschoolers to indigent families to families with problems to Senior Citizens. With your donation you become a part of it.

Mrs. Margaret Kalif will serve as commentator and other members of the Shrine Auxiliary will be models. All proceeds from the revue will go to the Burns Hospital

Pass library hangs show

An exhibit of oil paintings by Georgia Byrne Kuhnner and sponsored by the Pass Christian Art Association will be displayed during October at the Pass Christian Library. The artist attended Newcomb College and the University of Washington, majoring in Fine Arts.

Kuhnner has studied with the late Sadie Irvine, a well-known New Orleans artist; Chellis Walker, portrait artist; and local artist Zell McMath. While living in Japan, Kuhnner studied with the prominent Japanese artist Takashi Senda.

Kuhnner recently won first place in the oil category at the Trinity Church Second Annual Arts Fair.

the Gulf Coast for a two day training session.

Lead information and referral workers were in attendance from eight Southern Mississippi counties. John Lovitt, director, Aging Division, welcomed the group.

The second day session included 40 outreach workers. Intensive orientation served the purpose of providing the foundation for implementing information and referral services for older citizens in the 15 county SMPDD. The agenda for the Thursday session included panelists Jane Kennedy, assistant director, Aging Division, Pat Baldur, and Bobbie Gates, resource coordinators and Walt Porter, IRAT coordinator.

The area plan, spearheading a movement for supportive services to persons 90 years and older in the southern counties, includes in the initial year, Information and Referral, Outreach and Transportation services. The plan will be administered in accordance with the regulations, policies and procedures prescribed by the Mississippi Council on Aging and provides for a continuous process of planning by the area agency.

Post office closed Monday

Postmaster James R. Shadon has announced that the Bay St. Louis Post Office will be closed all day Monday Oct. 24 in observance of Columbus Day.

There will be no city or rural delivery service and all window service will be suspended on this day. There will be regular receipt and dispatch of incoming and outgoing mail. Collection of mail from collection boxes will be made on a holiday basis.

All mail will be distributed to Post Office boxes and all special delivery mail will be delivered.

Hancock Bank celebrates 75th birthday with party

It isn't every day that 75 candles are lighted on a birthday cake but then it isn't every day that a bank, or business concern celebrates a 75th birthday.

Hancock Bank did just that Wednesday and in grand style, inviting the entire population of the Gulf Coast from Gulfport to Lakeshore to join the party.

Kicking off the festivities was a candle lighting ceremony at 9:30 a.m. in the Bay St. Louis bank, chosen as the focal point of the day long celebration as the founding site of the banking organization 75 years ago.

By personal invitation from bank president Leo Seal, descendants of the bank's original founders were asked to light the candles.

Participating in the ceremony were Charles Breath, grandson of J. A. Breath; Miss Carmelite Spotorno, sister of L. N. C. Spotorno; Bartholomew Spotorno, brother of L. N. C. Spotorno; Ruth Cazeneuve, daughter of Joseph Cazeneuve; Miss Diane Evans, daughter of Thomas L. Evans; Rene de-Montluzin, grandson of L. A. de Montluzin; Edmond Fahey, grandson of J. B. Fahey; Mrs. Lucille Porter, daughter of John Osinach; Mrs. Vera Blaize, granddaughter of Charles Sanger.

Others invited who could not attend were Mrs. F. B. Sellier, granddaughter of John Toulme, Emile Gex, grandson of Mrs. M. V. Gex and Horatio Weston, son of Horatio Weston.

In keeping with the nostalgic theme of the celebration Bay bank officials and staff members wore turn of the century outfits and skillfully conducted regular bank business all day. The men in straw hats and bright red vests, the clerks and tellers in polk bonnets and long skirts.

Leo Seal, president of the bank, welcomed the crowd of residents and well wishers who flooded the bank to eat cake, drink punch and participate in the celebration.

Star of the show in the Bay bank was a 31-inch tall cake, shaped like a lighthouse and surrounded by the 75 candles. Twenty-pounds of icing were required to create a replica of the U. S. Coast Guard Ship Island Lighthouse.

Another nine large sheet cakes were baked for the occasion to be cut and served at the bank's main office and branches in Gulfport-Biloxi area and at the NASA-NSTL in Hancock County.

Cash contributions asked for Honduran disaster victims

by Dan Barber

Gulf Coast disaster coordinators working with Honduran victims of Hurricane Fifi asked this week that future donations to the Honduran Relief Effort be made in cash.

Governor William Waller disaster appointee Paul White of Bay St. Louis said Wednesday that relief efforts had collected a surplus of clothing.

"We have collected enough clothing from all over the country," White said, "to clothe the people of Honduras for the next 10 years. So we're trying to de-emphasize any further donations of clothing," he added.

"What is really most welcome now," White said, "is cash or a check that can be spent for priority items like rice, beans, corn and flour."

White said that there was still fear that an epidemic might break loose among the Honduran people.

"We have been holding money in reserve in this event," White said, "for medical teams and immunizations."

White said that the bulk of the Honduran people could not be immunized at present because many of them were still low in resistance from hunger and effects of the hurricane.

"If we gave them immunizations now," White said, "we'd probably just make them sicker."

White pointed out that all relief purchases made in the name of the Honduran people were now being coordinated by a federal agency.

The state of Mississippi, he said, has collected approximately $45,000 for the Honduran people.

"People on the Gulf Coast can be especially proud," White added, "because they have accounted for nearly 70 percent of this money that has been raised."

Relief supplies are still being accepted at the east pier, Port of Gulfport, but agencies supporting the relief effort are being requested to de-emphasize further clothing contributions.

A spokesman for the Standard Fruit and Steamship Company said that contributions were being warehoused and shipped out continually.

Those wishing to make cash or check contributions should send their donations to Hurricane Relief Fund, P.O. Drawer 1330, Gulfport, Miss. 39501.

Migues admits to shooting

By David Pierson
Long Beach Bureau

According to FBI sources in Jackson, Leroy Migues claims to have been the one who shot Ileen Vick in the chest with a .38 caliber pistol. Both Migues and the Vick woman were arrested Friday in El Paso in connection with the $26,000 armed robbery of a Pass Christian bank September 19.

About a dozen heavily-armed FBI agents arrested Migues at his apartment Friday evening in El Paso. There was no incident, and no weapon was in his possession at the time.

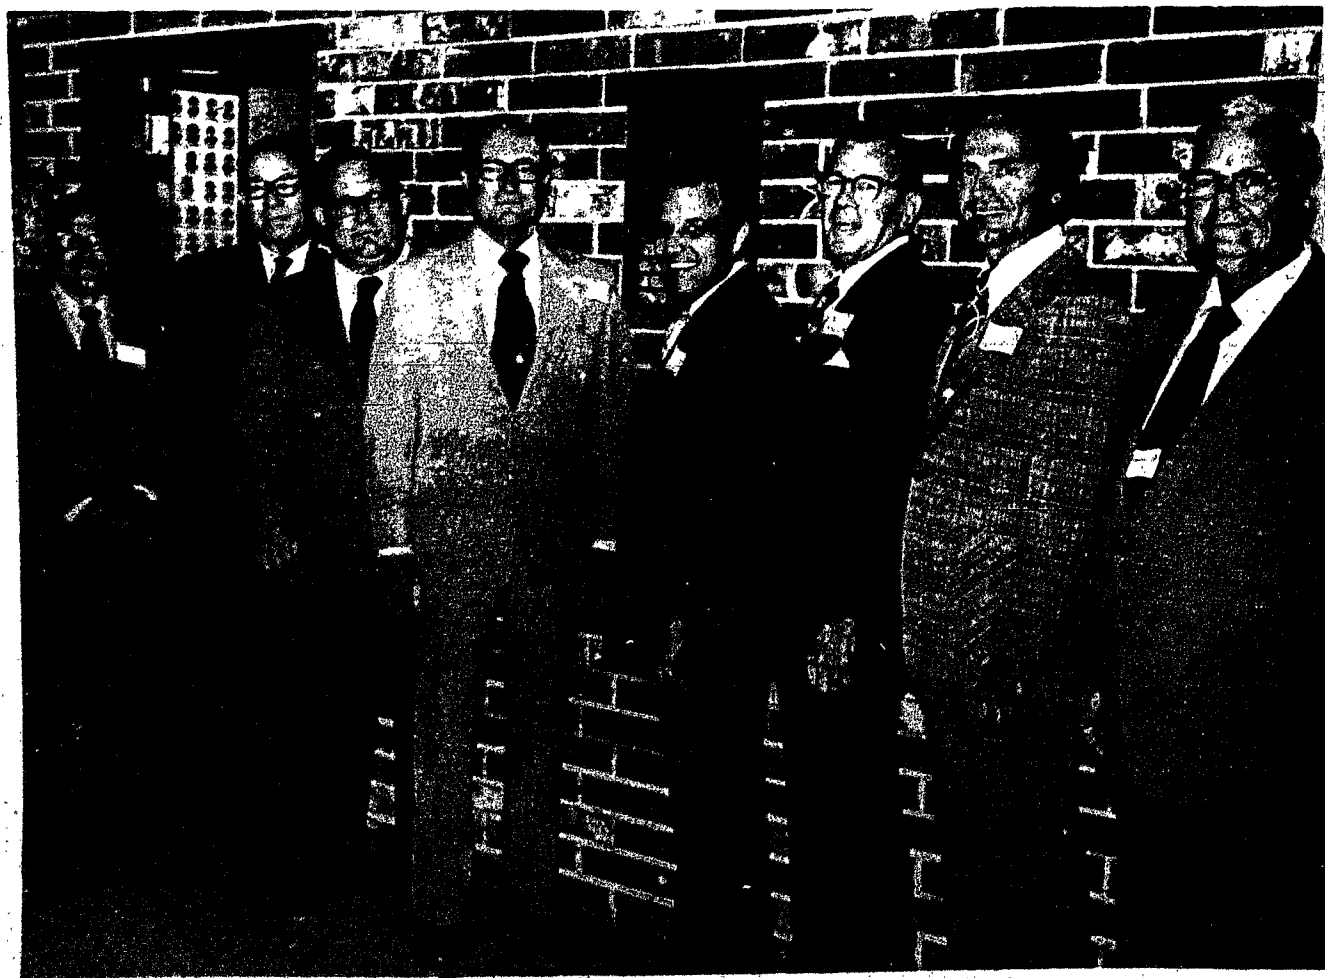

Migues is being held in El Paso County jail under a $100,000 bond. Monday he waived a removal hearing and is waiting transport to Gulfport for prosecution.

FBI sources also said that some of the money was recovered, but the exact amount was not disclosed.

Mrs. Vick, who is reported to be in satisfactory condition at William Beaumont Army Medical Center in El Paso, was arrested at Providence Memorial Hospital after being admitted Thursday under the alias of Eileen Horner. She is being held under a $100,000 corporate surety bond, but no plans are being made to transport her until she is released from the hospital.

EARLY DETECTION

Finding a reliable means of early detection of breast cancer is the goal of a new two-year $6.1 million study sponsored by the American Cancer Society and the American College of Radiologists at 27 U.S. medical centers.

PAST PRESIDENTS of the St. Stanislaus School Alumni Association were honored last Sunday at the school in Bay St. Louis with the erection of a plaque recognizing presidents from 1908 to the present. Attending the ceremony with their families

Schuengel-Stockstill vows are said

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the recent wedding of Miss Tina Maria Schuengel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Schuengel, Bay St. Louis, and Karl Stockstill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Stockstill of Leetown, Miss. The 11 a.m. double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Daniel Gallagher, associate pastor, Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Mrs. John McKenna, organist, played the wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of silk organza fashioned with a high neckline and lantern sleeves. Re-embroidered blossoms of Venice lace defined the sheer yoke of the princess style bodice. A wide flounce encircled the hem of the A-line skirt and bordered the cathedral length train. Her tiered veil of illusion was held in place by a headpiece of pearls and teardrops. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath.

Miss Cynthia Favre, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Schuengel, sister of the bride, and Miss Reba Stockstill, sister of the groom.

They wore floor length pink polyester knit gowns and white picture hats trimmed in pink. They carried bouquets of red roses.

Miss Keri Stockstill, niece of the groom, served as flower girl. She wore a pink floor length gown with matching hat and carried a basket of pink and white flowers. Kevin Schuengel, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Neville Pearson attended the groom as best man. Groomsman were Gleeson Murphy and Dale Craft. Alan and M. J. Favre, cousins of the bride, served as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Home.

Mrs. Schuengel received their guests wearing a pale blue floor length polyester knit gown with white accessories and a blue and white carnation corsage.

The mother of the groom wore a long pink polyester knit gown, white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Linda Stockstill and Mrs. Leo Taconi presided at the cake table and Mrs. Alvin Favre was at the punch bowl. Mrs. Harold Dragon and Mrs. Milton Favre assisted in serving.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a lime green dress, white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The couple will reside in Waveland.

Nominating committee

is set

Magnolia Homemakers Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Horn with Mrs. Jewel Stratton as co-hostess.

Mrs. Maurice George, Club president, announced election of officers for the coming year will be held at the November meeting and Mesdames Vivian Moffett, Frank Corcoran and Kirkland Rheams were appointed as a nominating committee.

A hat fashioned of tin cans and crochet was modeled by Mrs. John Everard.

The November meeting will be in the home of Mrs. H.W. Duke.

social events

Shattuck-Fonville vows exchanged in Bay St. Louis

Main Street United Methodist Church, Bay St. Louis, was the setting for the wedding Saturday, September 28, of Mary Adams Shattuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hardin Shattuck Sr., Bay St. Louis, and Henry Hugh Fonville, Monroe, La. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Henry Fonville, Lexington, Miss. Rev. Marion Fonville, Fort Worth, Tex., brother of the groom, and Dr. Gilbert Oliver, pastor, Main Street United Methodist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of white flowers and candelabra holding long white tapers decorated the church and blue and white bows marked the pews. Organist was Mrs. Jimmy Woodfin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over peau de sole trimmed with Chantilly lace. The empire style bodice featured lace and blue satin ribbon with a high neck and long fitted sleeves. The cathedral length veil of illusion, edged with matching Chantilly lace, fell from a caplet of lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and fleur de amour with blue illusion.

Miss Beth Mestayer, Waveland, Miss., attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Eleanor Turnipseed, Bay St. Louis, and Mrs. John Shattuck, Pascagoula, Miss.

They wore blue gingham dresses fashioned on empire lines with full skirts with ruffles edged in white lace and carried bouquets of white daisies and baby's breath with blue streamers.

Gene Bouchillon, Durant, Miss., was best man. Groomsmen were Harry Shattuck of Houston, Tex., and John Shattuck, Pascagoula, Miss., brothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Mrs. Shattuck received guests wearing a long yellow organza gown and a yellow orchid corsage.

The mother of the groom chose a long blue knit gown and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. W. G. Holmes, aunt of the bride, Gulfport, presided at the guest register.

The bride's table, overlaid with a white cutwork cloth over a blue ruffled skirt, was centered with a four-tiered cake decorated with white spun sugar roses and blue silk butterflies, topped with a nosegay of flowers matching the bride's bouquet. Crystal candelabra holding blue tapers adorned the table.

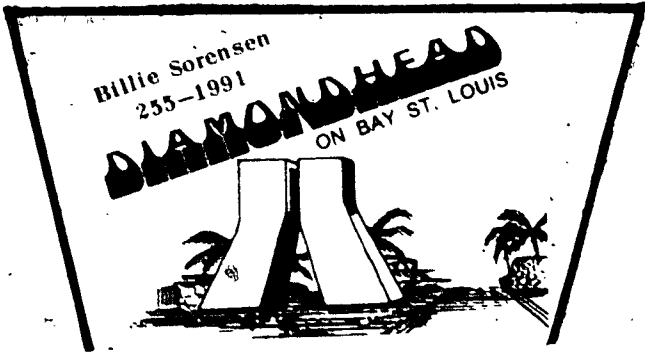

The cake was served by Mrs. Earl Ingram, Yazoo City, Miss., cousin of the bride, and Miss Mary Jane Nichols, Lexington, Miss.

Others assisting in serving were Miss Vicki Robinson, West Point, Miss., Miss Kathy Pollard, Jackson, Miss. Leslie Misch, Wapakoneta, Ohio, and Miss Betsy Berry, Gulfport. Gingham rice bags were distributed by Miss Debbie Redding of Holly Springs and Miss Mandy Fonville, Fort Worth, Tex., niece of the groom.

For her traveling outfit the bride chose a navy and white dress with matching jacket and navy accessories. She wore her mother's corsage.

The couple will make their home in Monroe, La.

On the eve of the wedding the groom's parents entertained at a rehearsal dinner at Ramada Inn, Waveland, Miss.

Since the consensus at Diamondhead is that we all miss reading about "Paradise" we have decided to try to fill Shirl Temple's shoes and revive the column.

The October meeting of the Garden Club was filled with a lot of activity with Mrs. L. Howard Ott giving a most effective demonstration and talk on the care of African violets; followed by Mrs. Chester Partridge and her daughter, Eileen, teaching all members the fine art of corsage making.

The Garden Club extends an invitation to everyone, member or not, to a fashion show and luncheon at the club Wednesday, Oct. 23 at noon. Shami's Ltd. will present fashions and give some lovely ensembles as prizes. Other incentives will be dinners for two at the Country Club and a door prize of a weekend for two at the Villa. Cost of the show and luncheon will be $5 payable at the club.

So many new homes and faces are brightening the scene out here that we will try to mention a few each column. Among new home owners are: the George Carriers with her mother, Mrs. Tate, who have moved back "home" from Ohio and into an unusual Diamondhead residence; the Joe Matrangola family from New Orleans; the Ed Snows have just moved into their new home: Cmdr. (USN, Ret.) and Mrs. Alvin Moore are now part of the scene; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Devine are here as permanent residents.

There's no sponsor yet but a bowling league has been organized with such enthusiastic players as Mmes. Phyllis Greaves, Lee Lewko, Connie Maggio, Virginia Criss, Susan Berry, Isabelle Lund, Mary Saucer, Vicki Parnell and sometimes yours truly. When Diamondhead gets a bowling alley we'll be ready!

Certainly has been nice having our own little traveling church here behind the Villa Motel office. Services open to all denominations are held 11 a.m. every Sunday officiated by the kind Fathers of Annunciation Church in the Kiln. It is particularly nice to see so many young people participating.

The volunteer firefighters here, with the aid of the Kiln Volunteer Fire Dept., helped put out a large brush fire Saturday that seems to have started from a carelessly thrown cigarette out of a passing car on I-10. What that fire did to our beautiful woods will take a long time to repair and replace. Our firefighters are to be commended.

Did you see the panorama Saturday here on the golf course? All those golf carts scurrying noiselessly back and forth watching the playoff in the week-long Mississippi Women's State Golf Tournament at Diamondhead. Mary Hoppert and her co-workers have something to be proud of for that event.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Necaise of Bay St. Louis, announce the birth of their third child and third son, Paul Ollie, September 25 at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. He weighed seven and one-half pounds.

Mrs. Necaise is the former Flora Mae Shiyou, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gustinell Shiyou of Pass Christian. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Ethel Cuevas Necaise, Bay St. Louis, and the late Ollie Necaise.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Verdon Sr. of Bay St. Louis, announce the birth of their fifth child and second son, September 20 at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. He weighed eight pounds, one ounce.

Mrs. Verdon is the former Patricia Ann May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. May of New Orleans. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Myron W. Campbell of Kenner, La.

Flink-Augrain vows said

Bernice Johnson Flink and Rene Joseph Augrain announce their marriage Tuesday, September 17, at Saint Angela Merici Catholic Church, Metairie, La.

Deacon Tom Kinney performed the ceremony. Attendants were Dr. and Mrs. James P. Bordelon of Thibodaux, La., and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Thomas of New Orleans.

Sideline break

Pass High head coach Bill Stevens imparted a few sideline instructions to his quarterback Aaron Swanier Friday night as the Pass High Pirates upset Notre Dame, Biloxi, 25-18 in a Pascagoula River Conference game at Pass Christian. The win gave the Pirates a 4-0-1 record and puts them in current first place position with D'Iberville in conference standings.

SPORTS

Pass High nips Notre Dame

by David Pierson

The Pass Christian Pirates edged previously unbeaten Notre Dame 25-18 in a battle for first place in the Pascagoula River Conference Friday night. The winning score came with only 1:50 left in the game when Thomas Boyd ran three yards for the winning TD. Oren Parker capped the play with 2 pt. conversion.

Notre Dame drew first blood in the game after the Rebels recovered a Pirate fumble. Mike Viator passed long to Stanley Dellenger for 47 yards to the Pirate 23, and three plays later John Brauchle ran it in from the four yard line to give the Rebels a 6-0 lead.

The Pirates, who fumbled four times in the first quarter, scored with only six seconds left in the opening period when Quarterback Aaron Swanier passed 21 yards to Otis Woods. Thomas Boyd's successful run on the conversion gave the Pirates an 8-6 first quarter lead.

Late in the second quarter Swanier passed to Woods for two consecutive long-gainers and with 1:30 left in the half hit Paul Joseph with a 17 yard scoring strike. Matthew Hammett's PAT was good, and the Pirates led 15-6 at the half.

Notre Dame rallied in the third quarter for two touchdowns to regain the lead temporarily. Taking the opening kickoff the Rebels drove 58 yards in eight plays with Dellenger scoring on a nine yard pass from Viator.

Rebel defenseman Matthew Skrimetta recovered a loose Rebel ball at the Pirate 46 to set up another Rebel score. Notre Dame went exclusively with John Brauchle as he ran five straight times, finally scoring on a pitchout around left end for seven yards.

Pass Christian, in the ensuing drive, consumed 10:35 as they moved 71 yards in 15 plays, but Pirate hopes seemed ended when the Rebel line held at the one foot line with 6:55 left in the game.

Hope was rekindled after the Pirate defense trapped Brauchle in the Rebel's end zone for a safety.

Trailing 18-17, Otis Woods returned the free kick to the Notre Dame 31. Pass Christian, keeping the ball on the ground, drove 31 yards in seven plays. Boyd, whose fumble had set up the Rebels' go-ahead touchdown, scored from three yards out to climax the drive.

runners while Co-Lin collected 124 rushing yards in the first half.

Terry Adkins pulled the River within three points with a 36-yard field goal on the last play of the half. The kick made the score 6-3 and capped a 58-yard drive by PRC to the Co-Lin 19.

In the final 30 minutes, the Wildcats generated more of an offense as tailback Larry Tyrone raced for 74 yards and touchdowns.

Breaks led to both tallies, however, as the offense could not mount a sustained drive. Tyrone's first score came on a 14-yard burst around right end with 5:37 left in the third period. The play came on first down after the Wildcats took over deep in Co-Lin territory when a high snap from center on a fourth down punting situation was bobbled.

Adkins missed the PAT attempt leaving the score 9-6 in favor of the River.

PRC notched its final TD on a five-yard Tyrone dash. The fourth period run climaxed a 35-yard drive which began with Randy Burge's interception of Wolf pass.

Co-Lin moved quickly downfield after the ensuing kickoff. Quarterback Vance Self led his club 80 yards in only nine plays for the score. Tommy Glass got the touchdown on a one-yard plunge.

Pearl River faces one of their toughest tests of the season this Saturday when they tackle the Gulf Coast Bulldogs in Biloxi.

Pass High defender Hilton Ray (65) comes up fast to defend this Notre Dame punt return as the Pirates contained the Rebels before an enthusiastic Pass High home crowd Friday night 28-15.

Tigers challenged to stop Bearcat ground attack

After an open date last week the Bay High Tigers will return to action Friday night in Tiger Stadium hosting the Long Beach Bearcats as they seek to record their second win of the season.

Coach Woody Alliston's Tigers defeated Hancock North Central 28-8 in their last home game and are 0-2 in the Gulf Coast Conference and 1-3 overall.

The Bearcats upended Heidelberg last week 13-8 and currently boast a 2-2 record with losses to D'Iberville and Stone County, conference leader.

The Bearcats have two of the conference's strongest running backs in Pete Price and Albert Snow.

"We know that we've got to stop Snow and Price," Alliston said. "I think everyone knows that our game plan will be to throw the ball." Alliston, who calls Long Beach probably the toughest team the Tigers will play, is counting on quarterback Mike Magee to guide the Tigers over the Bearcats.

"I think everyone in the league respects Mike's passing ability," Alliston said, "even when we've been down."

The Tiger lineup will be basically unchanged with the possible exception of linebacker Clarence Piazza, who has missed practice this week following a foot injury. Piazza is uncertain in Friday's lineup.

On defense will be Charlie Winkler and Vernon Powell at end, Landon and Favre at tackle, Chris Johnson, Thomas, Piazza and Willford Parker at linebacker; Fairconnetue, Ray and David Turcotte at defensive secondary.

Pearl River takes second in South Division

POPLARVILLE—The Pearl River Junior College Wildcats barely escaped the Co-Lin Wolves here Saturday night to move into a tie for second place in the South division.

Upset victims to Jones last week, PRC had to come from behind to beat Co-Lin. Coach Harvey Seligman's team made it's record 2-1 with the narrow escape. The Cats South Division mark is now even at 1-1.

Pearl River won itself trailing 0-6 only seven minutes into the contest. The Wolves marched 73 yards in 16 plays with the opening kickoff to score. Staying exclusively on the ground, Co-Lin pushed the River defense back with apparent ease.

Leading the drive was Darnell Charrier, who gained over 50 yards in the march and got the touchdown on a one-yard drive.

The PRC offense found the going tough against a husky Wolf defense. Only 40 yards were gained by Wildcat

NFL greatest game on Mississippi ETV

When historians begin their research to pinpoint the one day when the National Football League came of age, they might pick December 28, 1958 — the day the Baltimore Colts defeated the New York Giants in the first "sudden death" championship game before a national television audience.

Great moments from this game — regarded by many as the greatest game ever played — will be telecast on the Mississippi ETV series "The Way It Was," at 7 p.m., Thursday, October 10, and 12:30 p.m., Saturday, October 12, over the Mississippi Educational Television Network (Channel 19, Biloxi).

Leading the Baltimore team on that day was a new arrival to the NFL — Johnny Unitas, a brash 26-year-old quarterback three years removed from the quasi-pro Bloomfield Rams of the Pittsburgh suburbs. It was the first of many games that was to make Unitas one the gridiron's greatest field generals.

To bring his Colts to their moment of sudden death,

Taiwan leads in TV imports

Taiwan has overtaken Japan as the leading supplier of TV sets to the United States.

Latest figures from Taipei show that Taiwan exported a total of 1,854 million sets to the United States in the first half of 1974, accounting for 62.6 per cent of total American imports.

Cooper's Rebels jump from skillet to fire

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Ole Miss extends its Southeastern Conference campaign Saturday in Athens with another assignment against Georgia on the field "between the hedges."

The Rebels, now 2-2 on the year and 0-1 in the SEC results, will attempt to rebound from last weekend's 35-21 loss to Alabama.

They face in Georgia a squad of Bulldogs looking for atonement on two counts. An upset loser (28-24) to Clemson last Saturday, and that one was a shocker, Vince Dooley's team also was victimized 38-14 by Mississippi State in its conference opener the night of Sept. 21 in Jackson.

Thus, Georgia and Cooper's charges will enter Saturday's skirmish with identical records, although not against a matching foe. The Bulldogs measured Oregon State in their opener, 48-35; lost to Mississippi State, then wiped out South Carolina 52-14 a week ahead of last Saturday's upset loss.

Oddly, Coach Ken Cooper's team has won every odd-numbered game, upsetting Missouri 10-0 in its first game, losing 15-7 to Memphis State, then beating Southern Mississippi 20-14 here Sept. 28 a week ahead of Bama's comeback triumph last Saturday in Jackson.

Saturday's contest will be the Rebels' fifth of the season, in an arena where they haven't won since the 31-21 decision recorded back in 1970 in Archie Manning's senior campaign.

The 1971 Bulldogs clobbered the Rebs 38-7 in Jackson, won a comeback decision there a year later, 14-13, then scored at 20-0 last October in Athens.

The string of three victories is the longest in this 34-year old rivalry, which dates back to 28-14 Ole Miss triumph in Athens in 1940.

Ole Miss has won only twice at Athens, in '40 and again in 1970. The 1955 meeting was booked for Athens but with Tech and Miami colliding in Atlanta on TV it went to Grant Field as the night half of a double header.

Oddly, neither team could win at home until 1966 when Georgia bumped that season's Rebs, 9-3. Georgia leads the series 6-5-1.

The one serious casualty stemming from the game with the Tide was starting left tackle Pete Robertson of Batesville, who reinjured a shoulder early in the afternoon's televised feature and played no more against Bama.

He isn't scheduled to perform against the Bulldogs.

In all probability, Robertson's defensive replacement will be Mike Pittman, 225-pound sophomore from Corinth. Robertson is a 250-pound sophomore letterman who played first team in the latter stages of 1973's 6-5 season.

Starting fullback Paul Hofer, who missed the Bama game because of a leg injury, is expected to return at full speed. He was hurt against Southern Mississippi here Sept. 28.

Headed by offensive tackle Barry Collier at 258 and defensive tackle Ronnie Swoopes at 252, Georgia's massive front wall is by far the largest of any major team in the South.

Its upset loss to Clemson was its first at the hands of the Carolina Tigers in 19 years.

Favre, Hancock Hawks put together first win

by Edward Favre
The Hancock North Central Hawks won their first game of the season last Friday night defeating Our Lady of Victories Eagles 13-12 at Hawk Stadium.

The Hawks held the Eagles to two yards on the ground and allowed them only 54 yards in the air.

Hawks quarterback Revette Shaw passed to end Tommy Larsen for the first touchdown of the game with just two minutes expired in the first quarter. The extra point attempt failed and the Hawks held a 6-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

With nine minutes left in the second quarter the Eagles put their first score on the board when quarterback Brian Krebs passed to split end Hass Van Oekel for 21-yards and a touchdown. The extra point attempt was no good and the score was tied at 6-6.

Later in the second quarter Hawk quarterback Eric Moran fumbled the ball on the Hawk 40-yard line and Paul Schneider of the Eagles, recovering the loose ball, ran it in for a touchdown. The extra point attempt from placement was no good giving the Eagles a 12-6 lead at halftime.

In the third quarter Ted Williams of the Hawks took the ball on an end sweep and ran 56-yards to tie the game. Revette Shaw's kick from placement put the Hawks ahead to stay 13-12.

Neither team could manage to score in the fourth quarter making the final score 13-12 for the Hawks first victory of the season.

The Hawks now 1-4-0 for the season will host St. Martin this week at Hawk Stadium. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Texas cloud over USM

HATTIESBURG, - Southern Mississippi's Golden Eagles will be gunning for their sixth win over the University of Texas-Arlington Mavericks when the two clubs square off Saturday night in Mississippi Memorial Stadium in Jackson. The sixth meeting of the two teams will have a 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

Southern is the "home" team for the game and Athletic Director Roland Dale has announced a special ticket price for high school and elementary school students. Priced at $2. each, the tickets will be available at a special booth on the north side of the stadium, and the seats will be in the north side stands.

Formerly known as Arlington State, UT-Arlington is located near Dallas and has an enrollment of nearly 15,000 students. The Mavericks are members of the Southland Conference.

In last year's Eagle-Maverick game, The Texans out-gunned USM 14-13 in the first half. In the second half, however, Eagle quarter-back Jeff Bower got his club rolling and USM wound up on the long end of a 41-14 count.

New UT-A Coach Bud Elliott's Mavericks were idle last week while the Eagles were being drubbed by West Texas State 31-0 up in panhandle country in Canyon.

OLV to host Coast Raiders

The Coast Episcopal Raiders under coach Charles Lyle will be looking for their first win in five starts Friday as they travel to Pascagoula to meet Our-Lady of Victories, also 0-4. The game will be played at 7:30 p.m.

Coast was trounced soundly by St. Paul's, Mobile, last week 47-0 after losing six of seven fumbles in the game. Five fumbles were converted into St. Paul touchdowns.

Coast managed 162 yards total offense against St. Paul though it could not convert any drives for a touchdown. St. Paul's tallied 352 yards total offense, 200 yards in the air.

Offensive and defensive standouts for Coast were Joe Doussan, fullback, and Milan Winnard, linebacker.

TRAPEZE Tito defies death

Evel Knievel uses wheels and rockets to thrill his audiences.

Tito Gaona uses a blindfold and a trapeze to do a death-defying triple somersault, so far achieved by no other circus performer.

Gaona is one of the stars of the 104th edition of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus. A member of the Flying Gaonas, he turns a three-ring circus into a one-ring breather when he starts the triple somersault to a catcher below.

On opening night at Oakland, Calif., for example, 12,000 spectators sat spellbound as Tito, poised on the trapeze high above the sawdust, prepared for the feat that many claim is more daring than those performed by Knievel.

More acrobats have died seeking to perform the blindfolded triple somersault than have lived to repeat it. Nobody tries it blindfolded except Gaona.

Why does he do it?

"I have an ego," Tito replied during an interview backstage before the performance. "I want to do something nobody else has done."

Hawks seek second win

Dan Barber
Echo Sports Editor
Whether Hancock North Central can sustain its momentum will be the big question on Coach Irvin Favre's mind this week as the Hawks seek their second win of the season against a tough St. Martin team in Pascagoula River Conference action Friday night at HNC.

The Hawks posted their first victory against Our Lady of Victories, Pascagoula, Friday in a 13-12 donkeybrook after dropping their first four games of the season.

Favre expects the St. Martin Yellow Jackets to come on strong and predicted the Hawks' hopes hinged on stopping St. Martin's powerful running game.

"They are a team that's accustomed to blowing people out of the stadium," Favre said, "and we'll probably have to do some stunting to counteract that."

St. Martin, which brings a 2-1 record into Friday's game, knotted a 30-30 tie with East Central last week, a team that defeated the Hawks earlier in the season 39-8.

Depth and size will be two factors favoring St. Martin going into Friday's game.

Favre expects St. Martin to bring around 46 players into Friday's game, or approximately double the HNC bench.

"They'll probably be playing around 24 boys," Favre said, "where we'll only be playing 14 to 18."

"They're mainly a running team," the coach added. "They run a Power I formation and have a lot of power in their backfield and average around 200 lbs. in their line." "We'll be trying to stop that running game."

The Hawks defense limited OLV to just two yards net rushing last week and 54 yards in the air for a total of 56 yards.

The starting lineup for the

New rules put zip in pro football

As the experts predicted they might, National Football League rule changes seem to have put a new zip in the professional game. The spectators realized it during the pre-season competition and the statistics back them up.

NFL teams are scoring more points via the touchdown instead of the field goal, for example.

During the six-week pre-season, 345 touchdowns were scored this year, compared to 281 in 1973 — a gain of 64.

Field goals, on the other hand, with the goalposts set back an extra 10 yards to the rear of the end zone, fell to 120 in 230 attempts this year, compared to 209 in 349 attempts in 1973.

For the same reason, field goal accuracy dropped from 60 per cent in the 1973 pre-season to only 52.2 per cent during the pre-season this year. Yet even with the sharp fall-off of the field goal, there were 2,907 points scored in pre-season this year against 2,801 in 1973, a jump of 106 or 3.8 per cent.

The new rules also have opened up pro football considerably, in line with the demands of many fans after the 1973 season.

For example, there were 75 scoring plays of 30 yards or longer in the 1974 pre-season, compared to 58 in 1973. They included 48 passes of 30 yards or more; seven touchdown runs of 30 or more yards and 20 scoring returns of 30 or more. Six of these were kickoff returns, four punt returns, three fumble recoveries and seven were pass interceptions.

Of the 48 TD passes thrown on plays gaining 30 or more yards, one was for 80 yards; five were between 70 and 79 yards; nine between 60 and 69 yards; five between 50 and 59 yards; 15 between 40 and 49 yards and 13 between 30 and 39 yards.

How's that for wide-open football?

Moving the kickoff back five yards to the 35-yard line of the defensive team apparently has added a new dimension to this play, too. Larry Jones of the New York Giants returned a kickoff 100 yards; Greg Pruitt of Cleveland, 94 yards; Doug Winslow of New Orleans, 93 yards; Mike Holmes of San Francisco, 90 yards; Lenvil Elliott of Cincinnati, 88 yards and Clifton Taylor of Chicago, 85 yards.

The new rule requiring that only two linemen can start down field before a punt actually is in the air might have helped to trigger four scoring punt returns during pre-season this year.

Green Bay's Steve Odom scored on punt runbacks of 79 and 66 yards and Charlie Thomas of Miami scored twice in the same game against New Orleans on 90- and 66-yard jaunts.

There was a rash of long-scoring runs from scrimmage this year, too. Terry Metcalf of St. Louis ran 76 yards to a touchdown; Doug Kotar of the Giants, 68 yards; Mark van Egan of Oakland, 63 yards; Don Woods of Green Bay, 61 yards; Rob Scribner of Los Angeles, 50 yards; Ronnie Coleman of Houston, 43 yards, and Larry Brunson of Kansas City, 39 yards.

Most of these long-run scores were achieved, of course, by rookies and against rookie teams while the regulars still were out on strike.

The new rule requiring a maximum 15 minutes of overtime play if the score is tied at the end of regulation play was applied five times during the pre-season.

The new rules appear likely to give the fans a little more to shout about than they had last year, when pro football at times seemed to be mostly a contest between field goal artists who seldom dirtied any more of their uniforms than their kicking toes.

Methodone kills more than heroin

Methodone poisoning, almost unknown only a few years ago, killed almost twice as many people in New York City last year as died of heroin, according to a report by Dr. Dominick Dimasio, acting chief medical examiner for the city.

There were 745 narcotics-related deaths there in 1973.

Model A cost put at $8,000 today

By FRANK MACOMBER
Copley News Service

Hark back, if you can, to the early 1930s, when you could buy a new Model A Ford for $375 to $800, depending on how luxurious you wanted it to be.

You could pick up a second-hand Model A most places for from $50 to $150.

Now ask yourself this question: How much would a new Model A cost on today's automobile market, assuming they still were being built the same way Henry Ford turned them out more than 40 years ago?

YOUR LAWN

DAWN OF A NEW LAWN

You needn't be put out about putting in a new lawn, no matter how green you are at it. As long as you follow these suggestions, you can have an exquisite carpet of gorgeous grass comparatively quickly!

First, the groundwork. Loosen the soil, level it and break up the clods. Lime and fertilize with a balanced, slow release fertilizer. Some lots don't require lime, so have your soil analyzed. Work in the fertilizer.

Next, you need good seed. For best results, select an improved variety of permanent grass. If you're buying a mixture of seed, among the best are those that contain at least 40 percent Merion Bluegrass. Its long roots and broad, dark leaves are growing in popularity all over the country. Be sure you get premium quality seed—bargain priced seed can prove to be no bargain at all!

Use a spreader to sow the seed so the seed drops evenly at the rate you require. Top dress with a light application of mulching material and roll with a light roller for a firmer seedbed.

The answer tells part of the story of what has happened to the nation's economy over the last four decades.

Model A buffs who make a study of that long-ago car estimate that in today's economy it would cost from $8,000 to $10,000 to build a precise replica of the Model A.

Jack Simons, a Southern California construction contractor and member of the national Model A Restorers Club in Dearborn, Mich., says the price tag on a Model A built today would be "horrible."

"The Model A was built mostly of steel instead of the alloys and plastic used on so many cars today," he points out. "Axles, fenders and bodies for the Model A were of steel — modestly priced then but prohibitive at today's prices."

"So auto makers have had to go to alloys and plastics to save money. The result is you can walk up to some cars today and nearly put a fist through the sides."

"The Model A, on the other hand, was built like a fortress. 'Usually if you ran into a telephone pole you'd just back up and go on, unless you were speeding. Today you'd have a smashed front end with some cars at any speed.'"

Then you'd have to write in the auto workers' wages as part of the cost of a new Model A if it were built today, Simons adds.

"Ford paid something like 50 cents an hour to his assembly line workers," he recalls. "Today they pull down a minimum of $5 or $6 an hour. So the $4-a-day wage of the late 1920s and early '30s has jumped to from $40 to $50 an hour — without overtime."

The early Model A's were built austere, with no deluxe features, so they could sell at the $375 level, for the country was on the threshold of a depression, reminisces Simons, an incurable Model A buff.

Later Ford added such "luxury" items as wind wings and outside running lights, he remembers.

"Some models even had a roll-down rear window," Simons says. "The rumble seat, considered a sort of luxury today, was built into the original Model A's."

Wire wheels, a prestige item for young drivers on today's cars, were conventional on the Model A. Wooden spokes cost extra and there were no Model A's built with disk wheels, Simons says.

Ford built the Model A from late 1927 to 1931, nearly six million of them. Before that, the nation's roads were teeming with 15 million Model T Fords.

Simons recalls there was a great celebration in Detroit when the Ford Motor Co. turned out the 20 millionth car — a spiffy Model A four-door town sedan.

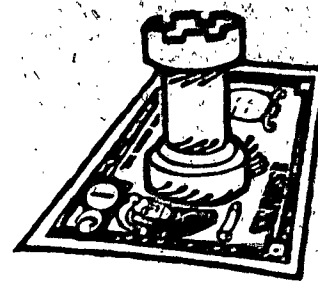

A rather discouraging example of how automobile prices have zoomed skyward gradually over the years is the fact that in the last 13 months the cost of most cars has climbed $1,000 — $200 more than the price tag on the most expensive Model A 40 years ago.

Part of the skyrocketing prices, of course, must be blamed on costly government-dictated safety and anti-pollution devices.

Ironically, a well-preserved and expertly restored Model A today will bring a better price than many new cars. Some have sold for $10,000 or more. Money is of little importance to the ingrained antique car buff if he has some to spend.

Like a sponge, your Electric Power Association is absorbing rising production and material costs in order to keep your electric bill as low as possible. Electric bills are high and probably will go higher due to the rising cost of fuel used to generate electricity.

Since all electric power distributed by Electric Power Associations is bought "wholesale" from power suppliers, their price affects your bills. And the price has been driven steadily upward due to the increasing costs of fuel. The income from this increase in your power bill does not go to your Electric Power Association, but to the fuel suppliers.

It's true, electric bills are high and expected to go higher. There is no immediate answer in sight.

REVIEW Something new for bike fans

DELONG'S GUIDE TO BICYCLES & BICYCLING — The Art And Science; by Fred DeLong; Chilton Book Co.; 275 pages; $12.95.

Reviewed By
JUDY SUND
Copley News Service

Most any bicyclist can remember the first time out on a two-wheeler — the mad struggle to remain upright as dad or an elder sibling gave a push and let go. And, all too many cyclists seem to think that once they've mastered this basic skill of balancing and pedaling simultaneously, they've learned it all.

But author Fred DeLong, a longtime participant-observer on the cycling scene, has set out to show that biking is more than a simple balancing act.

As he points out in the title of his new book, cycling is both an art and a science, and he's convinced that as bike sales boom nationwide, filling the streets with cyclists, the science of safe riding becomes increasingly essential knowledge.

So, in addition to all the standard bike book fare — how to choose, maintain and repair your bike — DeLong has added some safety chapters which he thinks could make any bike rider a more artful cyclist.

The keys, he stresses, are preparation and anticipation. First, see that you and your bike are in good riding condition, and make sure you're visible to others by wearing bright, light-colored clothing. At night, reflective tape can be added to your biking togs as an added precaution. Then, use your own vision to ride defensively. Scan the road and curbside ahead of you for potential hazards. The more obvious are potholes, broken pavement or the turning car. But be looking, too, for more subtle warnings. The motion of an arm or shoulder of a motorist in a parked car, for example, could mean he's about to open his door into your path.

Such hazards are inevitable, DeLong writes, so riders should prepare for them before they happen. To learn the art of avoidance, the author suggests setting up your own practice course of closely spaced objects and teaching yourself to pick your way through a series of obstacles with ease and expertise.

Sometimes, though — on a narrow path or in heavy traffic, for instance — swerving to avoid a road obstruction will be impossible. Find out for yourself what hazards you can navigate safely and which ones you'll have to walk around. Practice-ride through oil and sand and over uneven pavement to learn how they feel and find your own ways of conquering them.

DeLong offers lots of pointers in advance for you to bone up on. On loose gravel or a sandy road, for example, he suggests that you keep to the thinnest sections and avoid turns. Or, to cross railroad tracks, approach at a right angle to avoid rim damage and slides.

The author warns against certain less-obvious hazards, too, like wet leaves and wet metal (like manhole covers), both of which can be as slippery as ice and will reduce your braking ability substantially.

Your ears, too, can alert you to danger. The sound of a large truck behind you is a cue to brace yourself for the wind gusts and tail winds that accompany heavy vehicles. Such gusts tend to turn the front wheels in the direction they're blowing, so compensate by exerting pressure against the wind.

Conflicting Flood Prone Area Regulations with Other Ordinances; Additional Provisions Required

ARTICLE I PURPOSE OF CHAPTER

The principal purposes are to promote the public health, safety and general welfare; to minimize damage caused by flooding; to take into account flood plain management programs in effect in neighboring areas; to restrict or prohibit uses which are dangerous to health, safety or property in times of flood or cause excessive increases in flood heights or velocities; to require that uses vulnerable to flood, including facilities which serve such uses be protected against flood damage at the time of initial construction; to protect individuals from buying lands which are unsuited for intended purposes because of flood hazard; and to prescribe minimum requirements for land use and control measures for special flood hazard areas in Hancock County, Mississippi, as determined by the Federal Insurance Administration (FIA) of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. These regulations are based upon relevant technical storm data specific to Hancock County by the U. S. Geological Survey for the F.I.A. These measures must be applied uniformly throughout all privately and publicly owned land within the special flood hazard areas, based upon standards set forth in these regulations, as prescribed by the Federal Insurance Administration.

The "F.I.A." official flood hazard map no. H-280450301 through H-280450302, H-280450303, H-280450304, H-280450305, H-280450306, and H-280450307 is hereby made official and a part of these regulations, and is on file with the Clerk of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors. Also, the following maps will be used for supporting information:

"Hurricane Camille Tidal Floods of August, 1969, Along the Gulf Coast," prepared by the U. S. Geological Survey.
"Hurricane Critical Exposure Zone Maps," prepared by the Coast Code Administration.

ARTICLE II. DEFINITIONS

Federal Insurance Administrator - the individual to whom the Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development has delegated the administration of the program (34 F.R. 2680-81, February 27, 1969).

Flood Plain Management Program - the operation of an overall program of corrective and preventive measures for reducing flood damage, including but not limited to emergency preparedness plans, flood control works, and land use and control measures.

Floodproofing - any combination of structural and non-structural additions, changes, or adjustments to properties and structures which reduce or eliminate flood damage to lands, water and sanitary facilities, structures, and contents of buildings.

Land Use and Control Measures - zoning ordinances, subdivision regulations, building codes, and other applications and extensions of the normal police power, to provide standards and effective enforcement provisions for the prudent use and occupancy of flood prone areas.

Level of the 100 Year Flood - the highest level of flooding that, on the average, is likely to occur once every 100 years (i.e., that has a 1.0 percent chance of occurring each year).

New Construction - the first placement of permanent construction on a site, such as the pouring of slabs, footings, or any work beyond the stage of excavation. For a structure without a basement or poured footings, the start of construction includes the first permanent framing or assembly of the structure or any part thereof or its pilings or foundation, or the affixing of any prefabricated structure or mobile home to its permanent site. Permanent construction does not include land preparation, land clearing, grading, filling, excavation for basement, footings, piers, or foundations; erection of temporary forms, installation of sewer, gas and water pipes, or electric or other service lines from the street, or existence on the property of accessory buildings such as garages or sheds, not occupied as dwelling units or not a part of the main structure.

Official Flood Hazard Map - an official map or plat of a community or county issued and approved by the Federal Insurance Administrator, on which the boundaries of the special flood hazard areas have been drawn. Areas of special flood hazards are those which may be flooded in the event of a 100 year flood.

Residential Structure - a building or portion thereof, designed or used exclusively for residential occupancy but not including trailers, hotels, motels, and motor lodges.

Special Flood Hazard Areas - areas within the flood plain that have been designated by the Administrator on official flood hazard maps as "special flood hazard areas" which may be flooded in the event of a 100 year flood.

Substantial Improvement - any repair, reconstruction, or improvement of a structure, the cost of which equals or exceeds fifty (50) percent of the actual cash value of the structure either (a) before the improvement is started, or (b) if the structure has been damaged and is being restored, before the damage occurred. Substantial improvement is started when the first alteration of any structural part of the building commences.

ARTICLE III.

BUILDING PERMITS REQUIRED

Section 1. Securing of Permit

It shall be unlawful to proceed with any new construction, substantial improvement, or major repair to a building within Hancock County without having previously obtained a permit properly numbered and approved from the Building Official designated by the Board of Supervisors to issue such permits.

It shall be the duty of the County Sheriff's Department to see that such work requiring a permit is authorized and to report the absence of a permit to the Building Official. All work shall be subject to inspection whether a permit is required or not, at the discretion of the Building Official.

Section 2. Required First Flood Elevation

All building permits issued for new construction must have imprinted upon them the mean sea level elevation of the lowest floor (including basement) and the level of the 100 year flood (12.5 feet mean sea level). Said elevation requirements shall apply to all new residential and non-residential structures.

However, if the non-residential structure and its attendant utility and sanitary facilities are constructed below the 12.5 foot MSL, then the non-residential structure and its attendant utility and sanitary facilities must be floodproofed up to the level of the 100 year flood (12.5 feet MSL.)

Section 3. Requirement for Lowest Floor of New Construction to be Elevated at or above the Level of the 100 Year Flood (12.5 feet MSL.)

(a) It shall be the responsibility of the Building Official to act as depository for the first floor elevation records and to assign required first floor elevation. The notation shall be made on the face of the building permit. The first floor elevation of new residential construction must, at a minimum, be elevated to the level of the 100 year flood (12.5 feet MSL.) as determined by the F.I.A. Official Flood Hazard Maps.

(b) Upon application for a building permit, and prior to the issuance of a Use and Occupancy Certificate, the applicant must present a Grade Certificate to the Building Official which shows the mean sea level elevation of the first floor of the structure.

ARTICLE IV.

PERMITTED USES AND SPECIAL EXCEPTIONS

Section 1. Permitted Uses

The following open space uses shall be permitted within the special flood hazard area to the extent that they are not prohibited by any other ordinance and provided they do not require structures, fill or storage of materials or equipment. In addition, no use shall adversely affect the efficiency or unduly restrict the capacity of the channels or floodways of any tributary to the main stream, drainage facility or system.

(a) Agricultural uses such as general farming, pasture, grazing, outdoor plant nurseries, horticulture, viticulture, truck farming forestry, sod farming, and wild crop harvesting.

(b) Industrial-commercial uses such as loading areas, parking areas, airport land strips.

(c) Private and public recreational uses such as golf courses, tennis courts, driving ranges, archery ranges, picnic grounds, boat launching ramps, swimming areas, parks, wildlife and nature preserves, game farms, fish hatcheries, shooting preserves, target ranges, trap and skeet ranges, hunting and fishing areas, hiking and horseback riding trails.

(d) Residential uses such as lawns, gardens, parking areas and play areas.

Section 2. Special Exceptions

(a) All uses other than those specified in Section 1 are permitted only upon application to the Building Official and the issuance of a specific exception by the Board of Supervisors.

(b) Structural or other uses shall be permitted within the special flood hazard area to the extent they are not prohibited by any other ordinance and they meet the following applicable standards:

(c) All new construction or substantial improvements of residential structures within the area of special flood hazards must have the lowest floor (including basement) elevated to or above 12.5 feet mean sea level.

(d) The fill on which residences are constructed shall be at the minimum height of 12.5 feet above MSL and shall extend at such elevation at least 15 feet beyond the limits of any structure or building erected thereon.

(e) All public utilities and facilities including water, sewer, gas and electric shall be located, elevated and constructed to minimize or eliminate flood damage. Where existing streets or utilities are at elevations which make compliance with this provision impractical, or in other special circumstances, the Board of Supervisors may authorize other techniques for elevation.

(f) All new developments must have adequate drainage facilities provided to reduce exposure to flood hazards and must be consistent with the need to minimize flood damage.

(g) In riverine situations, no use, including land fill, may be permitted unless the applicant demonstrates that the proposed use, when combined with all other existing and anticipated uses, will not increase the water surface elevation of the 100 year flood (12.5 feet above MSL) more than one (1) foot at any point.

(h) Any alteration, addition, or repair to a non-conforming structure which would substantially increase its flood damage potential shall be protected as specified in (g) above.

(i) All building permit applications or major repairs within the special flood hazard area shall be required to use construction materials and utility equipment which are resistant to flood damage, and construction methods and practices used must be designed to minimize flood damage.

(j) All new structures in a special flood hazard area shall be adequately anchored.

(k) All new construction or substantial improvements within the special flood hazard area, including prefabricated and mobile homes shall be protected against flood damage and be anchored to prevent flotation, collapse, or lateral movement of the structure.

ARTICLE V.

BUILDING PERMITS REVIEWED

It shall be the responsibility of the Building Official to assure that:

(a) The first floor elevation of new residential structures be at or above the level of the 100 year flood (12.5 feet MSL).

(b) All new construction or substantial improvements of non-residential structures within the special flood hazard area shall have the lowest floor including basement elevated to or above the level of the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL), or together with attendant utility and sanitary facilities, to be floodproofed up to the level of the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL).

(c) It shall be the responsibility of the Building Official to assure that: the applicant submit a plan or document certified by a registered professional engineer that the floodproofing measures are consistent with the 100 year flood (12.5 feet above MSL) and associated flood factors for the particular area. The following floodproofing measures may be required without limitation because of specific enumeration:

a. Anchorage to resist flotation and lateral movement
b. Installation of watertight doors, bulkheads, and shutters, or similar methods of construction.

THOSE WHO WILFULLY VIOLATE THE ABOVE ORDINANCE ARE SUBJECT TO BOTH CIVIL AND CRIMINAL PENALTIES.

ON SEPTEMBER 3, 1974, A RESOLUTION WAS ADOPTED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF HANCOCK COUNTY WHICH SET UP A PROCEDURE FOR OBTAINING PERMITS AS REQUIRED BY THE ABOVE MENTIONED FLOOD PROTECTION ORDINANCE.

DONN MURRAY HAS BEEN DESIGNATED AS THE BUILDING OFFICIAL FOR THE FLOOD PROTECTION ORDINANCE, AND HE WILL BE RESPONSIBLE FOR ISSUING PERMITS AND MAKING INSPECTIONS AS REQUIRED BY THE ORDINANCE.

THOSE SEEKING INFORMATION ABOUT THE APPLICATION FOR OR OBTAINING OF PERMITS SHOULD CALL THE OFFICE OF THE BUILDING OFFICIAL. THE OFFICE IS LOCATED IN THE HANCOCK COUNTY COURTHOUSE AND THE TELEPHONE NUMBER IS 467-6012.

Library exhibit

Mrs. Watson Prindville, City-County Memorial Library administrator and young patron, John Kendall, discuss the merits of the painting by Mrs. Jane Barkley as the artist looks on. An exhibit under sponsorship of the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council now hangs at the library and may be seen for the remainder of the month of October.

Art collection hangs at library

Works of 10 artists from Mobile, New Orleans and the Gulf Coast were put on display at City-County Memorial Library in Bay St. Louis Friday where they are to remain for one month. The collection, destined to add to the decor at the proposed Coast Coliseum, was begun under the direction of Mrs. O.Z. Culler and sponsored by the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council. Two of the organization's officers, Mrs. Jane Barkley, president and the treasurer, Miss Josephine Alfonso, delivered the paintings to the library and supervised their hanging. Both have works in the show and are typical of the new breed of artists; extremely talented, charming and without, at least outwardly, a trace of temperament. A person of many interests, Mrs. Barkley is the wife of the well-known coast surgeon, Dr. Jane Barkley, mother of two teen-age daughters, Schaun and Fayr and eight year-old Jare, a third grade student at Christ Episcopal Day School. The girls attend Coast Episcopal in Pass Christian. Joyce, a native of Kossusco, Miss., now living in Long Beach, says she just squeezes in time between household chores, entertaining, chauffeuring and the like. Landscapes are her favorite subject and oils, her preferred medium. Josephine was born in Gulfport where she still makes her home. She has painted for a number of years but always considered it a hobby as she was engaged in a full-time business career. Recently retired, she is concentrating on art but finds she has little free time as she's become well known for her portraiture. She also paints landscapes, still lifes and uses several mediums. Her "golden landscape" is one of the more striking works to be seen at the library. Other artists, locally well known, have paintings in the show. Dalton (Mrs. Donald) King is the sister of Mary Alice (Mrs. J.H.) Benvenuti and Earle de Vries has many friends in the Bay area as does Mat (Mrs. George) Thomas.

National Guard converges on Biloxi for EANGUS convention

Over 500 National Guard personnel from across the United States gathered in Biloxi last week at the Sheraton Motor Inn for the third annual conference of the Enlisted Association of the National Guard of the United States. More than 30 states were represented at the five-day meeting, hosted by the Mississippi National Guard Noncommissioned Officers Association. Master Sgt. James A. Knowles of Meridian, a member of the Mississippi Air National Guard, was conference chairman. The conference opened with registration September 30, and concluded with a banquet and military ball October 3. Business sessions for the conference began with welcome addresses by Biloxi Mayor Jerry O'Keefe and Gulfport Mayor C. L. Bullock. Major General E. A. Beby Turnage, Adjutant General of the State of Mississippi, opened a series of addresses by guest speakers who included Governor Bill Waller and Congressman G. V. "Sonny" Montgomery who spoke during the final day's business session. The conference closed Thursday night with a banquet and military ball. Guest speaker at the banquet was Dr. Theodore C. Marrs, Assistant to the President on National Guard Affairs. Formed in 1970, EANGUS now has a membership of 15,000 in 39 states. President of EANGUS is Master Sgt. Robert Spencer of the South Dakota Air National Guard, and vice-president is Sgt. Major Virgil R. Williams of the Mississippi Army National Guard.

Fashion show will benefit Hancock United Way drive

The Corner Boutique and the Little Mushroom, specialty shops in Bay St. Louis, will present current fashions for ladies and children in a benefit style show Tuesday, Oct. 29, 7:30 p.m. in St. Rosemarie gym at St. Augustine Seminary. Mrs. Alice Boudin, operator of the Corner Boutique, said a wide range of fashions will be shown from casual sportswear to evening. Fashions for tots to sub-teens, from casual to Christmas party frocks will be featured by the Little Mushroom by Mrs. Marsha Artigues. All local models will be used in the show, which will benefit the United Way in Hancock County and has been scheduled as part of the current United Way fund campaign. A donation of $1.50 is asked as admission, which includes besides the style show, free refreshments and a number of attractive door prizes. Of interest to the male contingent will be an open bar. Additional entertainment will be provided by a vocal group of Bay High School students, under the direction of Mrs. Toy Tedford, Bay High music teacher. A highlight of the ladies fashion show will be models sporting ensembles dating back to Civil War days.

Candidates announced

The West Harrison County Jaycees are announcing their candidates for King and Queen of the Halloween Carnival. Chairman Richard Cuevas anticipates that the 2nd annual carnival will be bigger and better this year. All proceeds from the carnival go to the Jaycee Scholarship Funds, to help a student from the West Harrison County area get a better education. Last year West Harrison Jaycees gave the first scholarship for $800. The carnival will be held Oct. 26, at the Delisle School starting at 5 p.m. There will be games, booths, a spook house and refreshments. The crowning of the King and Queen will be at 9 p.m. and costume judging for grown-ups and children will follow the crowning. If these children come knocking on your door, Jaycees ask that residents please be generous. Children working for the carnival are first through fourth graders. CANDIDATES: For King: Harry Ladner, Winston Ausmer, Alan Dedeaux, Malcolm Dedeaux, Dalwin Cuevas, Scottie Cuevas, Gabriel Necaise, Timothy Allen. For Queen: Hunda Lee, Norma Dedeaux, Deborah McKay, Sonia Ladner, Tammy Coovert, Rhonda Wahl, Michelle Bradley, Laura Dubuisson.

KANTCHA KETCHUM
By L. S. (Doc) Elliott

The past weekend was a sorry one for fishing, all kind. The northeast wind blew constantly, making the waters rough and causing the tides to rise. A few if any bass were caught, practically no speckles and red fish were scarce.

In upper Campbell's Bayou at Grand Plane two fishermen were lucky enough to get 10 red fish near the Railroad Bridge. They were using live shrimp.

Fishing out at the marsh was almost impossible. Those going out had to wait two to three days before coming in. Too many rough seas.

Bob Little reported not too many fish brought in. Bob launches many boats. Knows where they go and what they catch.

The squirrel season opened on Sept. 28 in Zone No. 1. Opens on Nov. 2nd in Zone No. 2 and Oct. 12 in Zone No. 3. The daily limit is 3 and 16 in possession.

According to those traveling the woods there are a lot of squirrels hereabout. And some good shooting is in store for those who hunt the bushy tails.

While fishing the past week we have seen geese passing over. They are probably headed for the La. marsh where they will remain all winter. The season in Miss. opened on Oct. 5th.

Goose hunting is a man's job. It is necessary to take the elements, fight mosquitoes, wind and cold weather. Hunting them from a blind is hard enough but creeping them is even harder. Geese are big birds and get heavy when totting 'em through the marsh.

Dan B. Murphy is really a hard crabber. He caught 15 dozen crabs down at Bayou Caddy. Dan also fishes.

Archie Odum and Doug Young were salt water fishing the other day around Campbell's Bayou. They are from Hattiesburg and returned home with some speckles and other salt-water fish. Come down regularly they said.

D. Wayne Mallini who is an instructor at Pearl River Jr. College caught Red Fish and speckles in front of the American Legion Pier and at Pass Christian last week. Wayne is an expert at catching salt water fish. When not teaching, he's fishing.

Leo Poolson is a welder and when, not working at his trade is salt water fishing. Leo works in New Orleans. He is a good guy to know if you need a welding job on your trailer, etc. He is also a good scout in general.

Ed Herndon and Bo Jordan are ardent fly fishermen and also catch salt water fish. They are from Waveland and go fishing on every occasion.

Both like any old kind of fishing and you can bet they bring them home.

Met a wonderful guy recently, E. H. Mitchell of Nicholson, Miss. near Picayune. Doesn't do much fishing because he doesn't have time. Too busy taking care of his cattle, keeping up and planting new pastures. E. H. said he used to fish out of Bordage Camp on Bayou Caddy. Might start again he said. There is plenty fish down this way to be caught, neighbor.

Funny how you keep meeting wonderful people. Two of them are Claude Tracey and his wife Hazel from down Waveland way. Both love to fish, catch crabs, cook and eat them. Going to make that trip with you, folks.

Joe Cook Kellar said he is gonna get a skiff and start fishing again. Did quite a bit of it some time back. Afraid he is one of those who is always "gonna".

John Rogach doesn't claim to be much of a fisherman but when it comes to eating them he is a past master. One of his pastimes is doing for other people. A good trait.

Bill Griffith, Jr. is a pilot and flies most every day. When not flying he does fishing. Right now he said he has been catching plenty rats around Pilot Town and Venice at the mouth of the Mississippi River. Especially he is catching most of them at Baptiste Coulette. Even though the water is always muddy the river is now low and salt water from the Gulf is bringing the fish in. Bill said it is some fun catching the little rascals.

I am sorry to report the death of August (Parain) Perre, Sr. who died last week at the age of 94 years.

Parain was a personal friend and fishing partner. He paddled us old timers for many years and fished himself. He is survived by two sons, two daughters, one

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK - Bobby Poyadou is the captain of a 100 ft. boat and goes out seven days and is in seven days. When not so busy he does deep sea fishing. He's caught some mighty big speckles, red fish, tarpon and even sharks, which he enters in fishing rodeos.

Last week some big croakers were caught in the croaker hole above the L&N RR Bridge in Pearl River at the mouth of Inner Campbell Bayou. According to tradition croakers appear at this spot each year during the world series. Don't think the volume of them have arrived yet. These croakers average two to two and one-half pounds and make for good eating. The croaker hole is about 30 feet deep. The best way to get them is to fish with a tight line using one or two hooks baited with dead shrimp. Nothing to catch two at a time.

A quick and easy dish to cook on a camping trip is Gugutsa (Italian Squash) stuffed with shrimp. They are easy to grow along the fence and get to be three to four feet. Of course it is a spring plant. Delicious to eat! Don't know the right way to spell it. Would like to be informed.

Some of the best fishermen are the most unobserved, but we did get a chance to look in on a catch last week by three of our unpraised fishermen, J. C. Koenenn, Bob Weigand and Russ Elliott. They broke the record for last week, when in the midst of all the high winds they loaded up over 40 red fish and 400 large trout, all caught in the La. marsh. They know he spots but won't say where. Most fish were caught on small croakers.

When using artificial baits they added a little piece of dead cut shrimp. Glad these guys are kept busy at Diamondhead or the market might be flooded with fish. Shad Rigs and Specks - a - go were also used.

Seventy-fifth Anniversary

1899 - 1974

From the days when men first began to reckon with time, they have commemorated important historical events and have observed anniversaries. So quite naturally we have all become anniversary conscious.

The first European settlement was established on the Mississippi Gulf Coast by the French in 1699, and the Coast celebrates its 275th Anniversary this year. Hancock Bank also observes its Diamond Anniversary and celebrates completion of seventy-five years in business on the Coast October 9th.

An anniversary is something more than an occasion for felicitations and festivity. On anniversaries we are reminded of the swiftness of passing time. We reckon with the past in terms of its influence upon the present and future. We endeavor to profit from experience, for experience is our wisest and most effective teacher.

It is also in the light of the past that we sometimes resolve to improve upon the present and plan a more promising future. Woe to that individual, business or community that fails to take a periodic inventory of its losses and gains, its failures and successes, its shortcomings and achievements.

We appreciate our friends, their kindness, their confidence and their cooperation. We are grateful for the opportunity of doing business in an enterprising and friendly community. We are happy in the thought that we render an essential banking service and are in a position to encourage others to take full advantage of the present by giving forethought to the future. We like to think on each succeeding anniversary that we have made progress and that our customers and depositors have profited from our efforts.

Being thankful for so much, in the spirit of reciprocity, we like to think we provide you with the courteous, considerate, constructive and comprehensive banking service to which you are entitled.
